It never ceases to amaze me that the Bible compares being filled with the Holy Spirit to being drunk with wine. In other words, joy, happiness, bold actions, laughter, running, and doing things beyond ordinary behavior. We see this vividly on the Day of Pentecost when the disciples experienced the initial outpouring of the Holy Spirit, prompting onlookers to assume they were intoxicated.

Acts 2:13-15 (KJV) recounts: "Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine. But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words: For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day."

What took place that day must have been powerful—so much so that it appeared chaotic to those witnessing it. Compare this to many church services today, filled with rigid liturgies and strict programs. The New Testament church was alive, filled with enthusiasm, power, and supernatural manifestations. Paul reinforced this in Ephesians 5:18-20:

"And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit; Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord; Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Clearly, this was not a quiet, lifeless gathering—it was a dynamic, Spirit-filled experience!

Today, there are still churches that allow the Holy Spirit to move freely, and one of those is The River Church in Tampa, pastored by Dr. Rodney Howard-Browne. Located just 50 miles from my home in Bradenton, I make it a priority to attend as often as possible. As a pastor myself, I am hungry for the move of God. I long to be where His presence is tangible, where His power flows freely.

Whenever I step into the services at The River, I know I'm standing under the spout where the Living Water pours out! I am never disappointed—there is always a mighty demonstration of God's power. My son even flies in from Alabama with his church just to experience what God is doing here! People are coming from all over the world to experience the move of God.

At The River, you will witness uncontrollable joy, spontaneous worship, people running, falling under the power of God, and even being left speechless as they encounter His tangible presence. Some may be skeptical of Dr. Howard-Browne's bold frankness as he does not mince words or hold back preaching, but one thing is undeniable: the power of God floods that place.

If you're longing for a fresh touch from heaven, I encourage you—no matter your age, denomination, or background—to visit The River Church in Tampa. Come and drink deeply from the Living Waters, and I promise—you will never be the same.

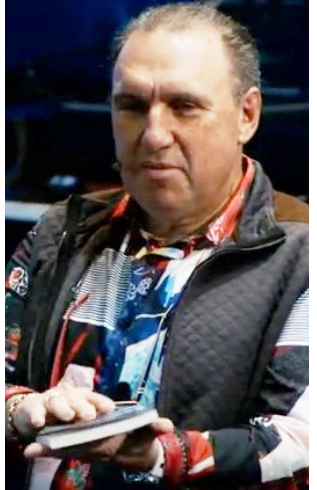

And if you're planning a vacation, why not experience both the beauty of Florida's beaches and the life-changing presence of God? Come, be refreshed, and see for yourself what happens when the Holy Spirit is given full reign. Your life will never be the same!

By Rev. Madeline Montez Duffany

We have found in our travels in our ministry, God Across America, that Holy Spirit is ever with us: He always shows up! Having a loved one in and out of hospital has sent us up and down the highway for the past few weekends, from Georgia to Florida and back again – 1200 miles round trip. Gas and motels and meals...yet God has supplied all our needs, and we have wonderful friends who give into our ministry. Here's a miracle: On most trips, we always stop halfway and stay at a Comfort Inn in Valdosta, GA, before heading into Florida and on the trip back again. We have established a relationship with the motel desk clerk and a few ladies who manage the little cafeteria inside the motel. There, we find refuge from the long hours on the road. These lady friends are so filled with joy; they greet everyone with smiles and hugs. I am a Pastor and evangelist, and so are they! Maybe they do not have a license or credentials, but they are great evangelists. I call them my "Road Pastors"! They may even sing for you and the Lord. I told one of these friends that we were going to pick up a loved one in Florida. She said, "I'm going to pray for her. Prayer changes things!" They get up early to make breakfast and coffee and are so very attentive over each person...better than being in a fancy restaurant! Better than some churches! Hebrews 13:12 says, "Do not forget to show hospitality to strangers, for by so doing some people have shown hospitality to angels without knowing it." I find it of no coincidence that as we turn onto the drive to the Comfort Inn, we see that the road is named "Hospitality Drive." So, let's be careful how we treat people who provide us services. We are all created equally. God is no respecter of persons: Apostle Peter, Acts 10:34 You will know if Jesus is in your heart if you look past nationalities and service workers and see them "Through the Eyes of Jesus." My husband wrote a song regarding this. Do you speak to people and ask them how they are doing? I have a friend who needs a car of her own. I spoke Jesus over her. He can supply all our needs. Phil. 4:19. People have needs! I believe she will be given a vehicle. I speak Jesus over everyone, my family and yours. Our faith and trust must always be in Jesus. Here's a miracle and a perfect example of a prayer granted: It was after 5:00 PM when we picked up our daughter in Bradenton. There were no rooms available at Miracle Manor at Christian Retreat, and all the motels nearby were very expensive. We called ahead, and my husband kept driving as it grew dusky and soon very dark. Big tractor-trailer trucks zoomed past, and we were very weary. We have a hard time driving in darkness, and had already driven five hours down from Valdosta, GA that morning. We stopped at a motel in Gainesville but discovered that the accommodations were very unsuitable. I had called ahead and booked a room, but upon arrival found it was too small with a tiny bed – we needed two beds. Continuing on the highway, we stopped for gas. I said to my daughter that I was just going to pray in tongues...we need help. Then, on the dark, dangerous highway, I said, "I know there is someone, God, but I can't even think of the names of some motels right now." I tried to read the darkened road signs as we whizzed by. I closed my eyes and asked God for the names of some motels. Suddenly, "Red Roof" came to me! I told my husband, "Remember Red Roof? We used to stay in them!" I called Red Roof Plus+, and they had a room with two beds! Exit 352. Just in time, before we drove past the exit, we had a room for $88.00! Talk about grateful! No charge for our little dog. It was very nice in every way. Thank You, God. Before this, we had been getting frustrated and were trying to work... To be continued Page:4

First and foremost, In the very beginning of this new year, we must completely surrender ourselves to God! One cannot put New Wine into old wineskins. When one is birthing into a new season, as with child-birth, they must leave the place where they are to enter into a new place, a new season, and receive a new mantle upon their lives. They cannot take any part of the comfort of the womb or place where they have been with them into the realm they are being birthed into. All the doubts, unbelief, fears, and hindrances must go! Many of the comforts of the old womb, like some past relationships, must go! Many of the former seasons must make way for the new place being birthed. One must press into a deeper place in the Presence of YAH - YESHUA to receive a new mantle and position that has been prepared for such a time as this. Eyes of a Seer to see deeper into the Spirit realm, deeper and clearer than ever before... This is the time to rise up, stand up, spread those Eagles' wings, and fly. No matter what circumstances you are dealing with, keep your eyes on Jesus, the author and finisher of your faith. He is our soon-coming King, Lamb of God, and bridegroom, God has given His remnant the keys of authority; it's in your heart and your mouth...With these keys, you will walk in the fullness of all God has for you in 2025. You will tear the devil's kingdom down... No weapon formed against you will prevail. These are the keys to the Kingdom within you, for your life and the lives of those around you. Today is a NEW day for you! This week is a NEW week! You are who the Word says you are! You can do what the Word says you can do! You are not attached to your past; your past has passed away. All old things have passed away, and All things have become

NEW! SEPARATE YOURSELF from what you were, things you did yesterday. and all the things people said about you. Today, all things have become NEW IN CHRIST and His Word. YOU ARE WHO THE WORD SAYS YOU ARE... no butts...YOU CAN DO ALL THE WORD SAYS YOU CAN DO! LET THE NEW MAN IN YOU RISE UP IN CHRIST JESUS... Humble yourself under the Mighty hand of God. Resist the devil, and he shall flee... RISE UP, IT'S 2025. IT IS A NEW YEAR FOR YOU! GOD HAS BIG THINGS FOR YOU THIS YEAR TO WALK IN. Go through the doors of...Consecration.....to Receiving Revelation.....to Anticipation to Acceleration of your divine purpose this year. You are well able to take the land God is giving you this year... You can do all things through Christ Jesus, who strengthens you. Who infuses strength into your inner man, by the Holy Spirit who lives within you...Christ in you the hope of glory. DECREE, DECREE, DECREE... 2025 A New Day... Get Ready! A New Year...Get Ready! A New Season...Get Ready! A New Start...Get Ready! A New Beginning...Get Ready! 2025, ALL THINGS HAVE BECOME NEW!!! All old things have passed away 2025- The page of your life has been turned A New book has been opened. A New page has started. Forget those things that lie behind 2025- Moving Forward to the Blessings that lie ahead Move towards the mark of the high calling... 2025- The year for the Eagles to soar... Strong, Overcoming, and Soaring ALL IN JESUS CHRIST. New Year's Resolutions???

So many changes need to be made? So many new dreams and visions to accomplish? Where do you start? (Prayer and fasting) --Psalms 51- Create in me a clean heart, oh God, and renew a right spirit within me. --- Col.1- That I be filled with the full, deep, and clear knowledge of His will, in all spiritual wisdom and understanding. That I would walk in a manner worthy of Him, pleasing Him and desiring to please Him in all things. Bearing fruit in every good work, increasing in the knowledge of God. ---Decreeing what Jesus said: Not my will, Oh Lord, but thy will be done in my life. That this year I will be(manifest) as a body wholly filled and flooded with You, having the richest measure of Your divine Presence, filled unto overflowing unto all the fullness of You, God (THEN EVERYTHING ELSE MY FRIEND WILL FALL INTO PROPER PLACE) ... These are the times that we are in my friend: These are the times of purification and refining for those who are in the household of God that you would come out as pure silver and 24-karat gold, uncompromisingly righteous, upright in right standing with God, not just a word but In manifestation, ready to do great exploits for the kingdom of God and his glory! The Word of the Lord for the beginning of the New Year He will sit as a REFINER and PURIFIER of silver, and HE WILL PURIFY THE PRIESTS, the sons of Levi, and REFINE THEM like gold and silver, that they may offer the Lord offerings in righteousness. HUMBLE YOURSELVES UNDER THE MIGHTY HAND OF GOD, IN THE BEGINNING OF THE NEW YEAR, that He may exalt you in due time. Continued on Page: 4

Noah's Second Day

By Ken Carpenter | elderkc134@gmail.com

Many Christians are wondering what is happening in their lives, why there are so many problems, and yet no peace. They know something is wrong. There is a stir in the inner man, a war in their members saying, "Let's go on with God!" They are tired of compromising with the world, with organizations, programs, and physical power; they know they need the anointing of the Holy Spirit to endure the coming crisis of these last days. The church is finding this is a time of painful transition, frustration, burnout, and going through the mechanics of ministry, but inwardly, they have quit, confused, wondering why the old ways are not working anymore. As this cloud of judgment rises on the church, they will be wondering what has happened with so many troublemakers rising up all at once, saying, "The day the Lord is at hand!" The unrepentant church will say, "I heard that message 20 years ago!" Jesus says, "It is an evil servant who says it in his heart 'my Lord delayeth His coming.'" (Matthew 24:48) He warned the church at Sardis to be ever watchful and expectant and to repent or be caught unawares "Hold fast and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come to thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. (Rev 3:1-3) The message of these troublemakers being rejected because it has come from housewives, truck drivers, dog catchers, plumbers, and laypeople, just as it was in the day of the Pharisee when they said, where did this man get this wisdom? Is this not the Carpenter's son? (Matthew 13:53-58) The unrepentant church will be in ignorance of her real spiritual condition, because the Holy Spirit has been grieved and His voice silenced! The spirit of pride and control won't let you admit you have a need. It will make you think, "I am rich, have become wealthy, and have need of nothing. I have arrived!" The Holy Spirit is saying to all of us, "you do not know that you are wretched and miserable and poor and blind and naked!" (Rev 3:17) Jesus is saying, "I advise you to buy from me, gold refined by fire, that you may become rich, and white garments that you may clothe yourself and that the shame of your nakedness may not be revealed, and eye salve to anoint your eyes, that you may see. Those whom I love, I reprove and discipline; be zealous therefore and repent. (Rev 3:18-19) The church will be forced to decide between keeping peace through compromise or receiving power through repentance and uncompromising commitment to New Testament preaching with full power to reach this lost generation. The urgency of these final days demands honesty and openness in leadership, honesty to finally confess that we are not adequate to fight this war going on in heavenly places, that we have turned from our first love! As they did in Noah's first day, it will be today. For as in these days which were before the flood, they were eating and drinking, they were marrying and giving in marriage until the day that Noah entered the ark, and they did not understand until the flood came and took them all away, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. (Matthew 24:37-39) We are now living in the time of the great apostasy, the great falling away, for it (The Day of The Lord) Will not come unless the apostasy (falling away from the faith) comes first. (2 Thes 2:3) A falling away from the true faith and lifestyle which God demands of His people and which is taught in Scripture; multitudes say they are eagerly anticipating the return of Christ. However, when close investigation is made of their personal lives, we find little difference between most of their lifestyles and those of the people in the world: divorce, adultery, homosexuality, strife, gossip, unforgiveness, anger, disputes, and factions are as prevalent in the churches as they are in the world. People easily become disillusioned; down inside, they know something is desperately wrong. Many wander from church to church, looking for something they know they are missing. The message of peace and safety being preached cannot put an end to their turmoil. They discern the spiritual emptiness in themselves and wonder what is wrong, being told all of the promises of God but yet not seeing them! Because of this, the numbers decrease so the church turns to recreation and entertainment. In an attempt to hold the people becoming more and more like the world, it is The Falling Away, so we call something church which is not the church; we call people Christians who are not Christians; then to justify, we pick and choose parts of the Bible that fits our particular structure, then become offended when we hear other parts of the Bible. As in the days of Babel (Gen 11:1-7), we are confused, each speaking a different language; why haven't we paid attention to our enemy? We are too busy fighting one another! And the serpent (Satan) poured water (words) like a river out of his mouth after the woman (bride of Christ) so that he might cause her to be swept away (apostasy) with the flood (of words) (Rev 12:15) "And the serpent said to the woman, 'you surely shall not die!'" (Genesis 3:4) he said you can touch of rebellion to God and yet live. People say... Continued on Page:7

Saved While Drawing Blood Three Minute Salvation

By Robin Art

God seems to have given me a special gift for soul-winning. Not just the gift but the gift for bringing others to Christ, many times in very unusual ways. I use my creativity and enjoy having fun with people. I've found this tends to open others up. Several years ago, I was sent to a lab for routine blood work. Once seated, I was greeted by the young man who prepared to draw my blood. To ease my tension, I joked with him. "Hey, I just wanted to check and ask you if you've ever done this before?" He smiled and assured me, "Yes, he'd taken blood many times. He then shared this would be his last week". As we spoke, he explained he was in the service and was being deployed the following week". I smiled and asked him if he was ready. He shared he was having apprehensions and was fearful he would be sent out on the front lines. I asked him if he knew if he would go to heaven if he didn't make it. He said he hoped so but wasn't sure. As he took my blood, these are the words I said. "Today you are taking my blood for a purpose, but Jesus Gave His Blood for a Purpose: to purchase our souls by dying on the cross for the forgiveness of our sins. That if he repented of his sins, placed his faith in Christ today and accepted Christ's shed blood he would be sure of where he would spend eternity. That way, if he was to perish, he would be sure he would go to heaven." I then asked, "If he would like to repeat a short prayer after me asking Jesus into his heart?" He said, "Yes". I prayed the Sinner's prayer, and he prayed after me. This was accomplished all while he had the needle in my arm! By the time he was done taking my blood, he knew he had been purchased by the salvation. That all took place in about 3 minutes. We then said goodbye. He thanked me as I left, knowing his eternity was secured. So now let me ask you a question. Do you have a desire to talk to people about God? Do you find yourself feeling awkward and unsure about how to open up a conversation with a stranger? Before you begin, it's important to pray first. Ask God to prepare the person's heart and ask God to draw them to Himself. Learn to depend on God to lead you. When you sense God leading you to talk to someone, take a moment first. Observe the person. Oftentimes, you can open up a conversation relating to what you observe about that person or what they're doing. You may feel led to ask the person a question relating to the situation around you. If you are Spirit-filled, you will be sensitive to the leading of Holy Spirit. He will show you what to say. Use scriptures, when you can, that relate to your conversation. At times, I quote scripture. But many times, I put scripture into everyday layman's terms. If you are Spirit-filled, God will lead you and bring to your mind what to say. Tap into your creativeness. God is a very creative God. Jesus always related to people. 1 Corinthians 9:23 Jesus said, "I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some." He spoke to them in ways in which they could relate. He asked the woman at the well for water. Then He told her about (Living Water). When He spoke with the farmer, He talked about (Sowing Seed). When He talked to the fisherman, He talked about (Fishing for Men). Do you feel like you don't know where to find people to talk to? Go sit in the Drs. office. There, you will find people who need a doctor. You can explain Jesus is our divine Healer and He still heals today. If you have seen God heal others through you ask if they would like you to pray for them for healing. Do you know someone getting married? Talk to them about Jesus, our Bridegroom. Tell them that when we become Christians, we become the bride of Christ. Jesus becomes our Bridegroom. If we make God the center of our marriage, He will lead us and guide us all the days of our lives, and our marriages will be blessed. I challenge you today to be about our Fathers' business while there is yet still day for the bible says there is coming a day when no man can work. So do not let an opportunity pass you by when you feel God is opening a door for you to tell someone about Jesus. No man is guaranteed tomorrow. Today is the day of salvation. I know many of you have friends and family members who you have talked to and prayed for, some for years who have yet to come to Christ; myself included. Don't stop praying. Some people come to Christ years later, but some come to Christ in just a few minutes. Do not let preconceived expectations stop you. Your job is to be prayed up, tell people about Jesus, and He will do the work. The Bible says the harvest is ripe, but the workers are few. Did you know how many people are out there who have actually prayed for you to come along and lead them to Christ? They're actually looking for you! So, can you lead others to Christ in just a few minutes? It happens more often than you think. Take a deep breath and just have fun with it. Let the joy of the Lord be your strength. Step out and see. You may just be surprised. You can be a soul winner too!

"I will not leave you comfortless..."

From Page 2 ...things out our own way. Here is an example of flesh versus Spirit: Abraham and Sarah were given a son, Isaac, by the Spirit of God. Galatians 4:28. He was a child of the Promise, whereas Ishmael was a child of the Flesh. We who are Christians are children of the Promise, and of the New Covenant, and like Isaac, we are being persecuted as he was. Sarah saw the son of Hagar (an Egyptian), named Ishmael, who had been born to Abraham, mocking Isaac. Do you remember the account of how Sarah could not wait for the Promise of God to give her a son? The effect of the birth of Isaac (a work of the Spirit) was to make manifest the character of Ishmael (a work of the flesh). Ishmael actually desired to murder Isaac. Gal. 4:29. Abraham had to put off Ishmael. You cannot improve the "old man." That old man must be done away with, and the new man must be born. It is a hard struggle to put off bondage. The flesh, our personal ability and strength, must go. Our faith must be entirely in Jesus Christ – Who He is and what He did at the Cross. Only then can the Holy Spirit have latitude to work in our lives, bringing forth personal victory! When we stopped trying, the Holy Spirit did the work, and we found that motel. I thought, "Red Roof". The Red blood of Jesus will never leave us or forsake us. My Pastor said, "Do what is right, and God will honor it." We have been back and forth from GA to FL so many times involving the expenses of such trips...yet God made a way as we ministered the Gospel and helped our daughter. It seemed so impossible, yet He made a way where there seemed to be no way. Isaiah 43: 16. Give Him a try. You won't be disappointed! This is God's Truth, the Spirit of Truth Pstr Madeline M. Duffany Evangelist, Singer, Author, Speaker, GCMA Georgia Coordinator

A NEW DAY IS SET BEFORE YOU TODAY!

From Page 3 ...Third REALM LIVING- In this place, the Word of God dictates what we see in our spiritual eyes and what we hear, which will always line up with the Word of God, what we speak, which is the law of life in Christ, Jesus, not our circumstances. We don't go by what we see, hear, or feel in the natural. The word of God does not line up with our circumstances, but we call our circumstances to line up with the Word of God! The blood of Christ speaks, the blood has a voice, and by the power of the blood of Christ and the word of our testimony, we walk as Overcomers over all matters of evil that nothing shall by any means hurt us. When we come to know who the Holy Spirit is within us and surrender to that secret place, we will walk hand-in-hand in his victory as Overcomers! We don't go by what other people say or what our circumstances are trying to tell us; we command them to line up under the power of the Word of God that lives within us. There is only one way, one truth that is not void of power, and that is the Word of God. We hold a two-edged sword in our mouths. When we declare with Authority by the power of the Holy Spirit, and by the power of Christ's blood that speaks, holding forth the shield of faith, we manifest all the glory he died and rose again for us to walk in when He said, "It is finished!" And so, we stand immovable on the solid rock of Christ, knowing that as He is, so are we in the world. And by his Holy Spirit who lives within us, We can declare and decree, "The spirit of the Lord is upon me, and he has anointed me to preach the good news, To heal the sick (even if that's me) and cast out devils, to open the eyes of the blind, to open prison doors, and set the captive free to the glory of God! And so, I will hear, well done on that day when I stand before him, enter into the joy of the Lord! My friend, be faithful only to the Word of God, doing all to stand, continue to stand and see the full salvation of God in your life that he paid for 2000 years ago. Many Blessings, Sarah Jansson G.C.M.A. S.W. Annuities: A Smart Way to Give to the Lord While Securing Your Future

By Chuck Kennedy | www.wefundthegospel.com

Many Christians desire to support their church or favorite ministry but worry about maintaining financial security during retirement. Fortunately, there's a way to do both—using annuities or life insurance policies to create a lasting impact while ensuring you and your surviving spouse have the income you need.

How It Works

With an annuity, you can invest a lump sum into a contract that guarantees you a steady income for life or until the balance depletes (There are many ways to structure this). When you are called home to be with the Lord, the remaining balance can be designated to go directly to your church or chosen ministry. This allows you to give generously without sacrificing your financial stability.

You can also give the income to your church or favorite ministry as a tithe and then designate the balance at death to your surviving family members or a portion divided between your church and family. You can get really creative with this if you have a heart for funding the Gospel, say, an orphanage that needs help feeding the children or a church looking to build a bigger building. There are no limits to the giver!

Ways to Structure Your Giving

- Charitable Gift Annuities (CGA) – A CGA provides you with a fixed income for life, and upon your passing, the remaining funds are transferred to your designated church or ministry.
- Life Insurance with a Charitable Beneficiary – You can name your church as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy, ensuring a significant gift at your passing while maintaining access to cash value during your lifetime.
- Annuities with a Charity as Beneficiary – A simple annuity can be set up so that you receive guaranteed income, and any remaining balance upon your passing is then paid to your spouse until they go to Glory, and then the balance is donated to your chosen church or ministry.
- IRA or 401(k) Beneficiary Designation – If you have retirement accounts, you can designate a portion to go directly to your ministry, reducing tax burdens on your heirs.
- Living Trust with Charitable Intent – A trust can be designed to provide income to you while you live and then pass the remaining assets to your church or ministry.

- Stewardship – Your resources are used wisely to further the Kingdom.
- Tax Benefits – In many cases, these strategies can provide tax advantages for you and your heirs.

By planning wisely, you can bless your church or ministry while ensuring your own needs are met. If you'd like to explore these options, consider speaking with us or check out our website on creative ways to use insurance to multiple and prolong your giving to the Gospel www.wefundthegospel.com. We offer free wills and living trusts completely free with no money required and encourage the designation of a bequest to your preferred church or ministry. HOPE INTERNATIONAL
MINISTRIES

The Stargate Project and the Rise of the Antichrist

By Pastor Chuck Kennedy, Publisher

In a world rushing headlong into technological advancement, there is a spiritual deception at play that Christians must be aware of. The relentless pursuit of technological dominance, where humanity is venturing into dangerous spiritual territory. The Stargate Project, a newly announced AI initiative, is set to invest $500 billion over the next four years to build an AI infrastructure for OpenAI in the United States. This staggering sum is already being deployed, with $100 billion allocated immediately. While many hail this as a breakthrough in artificial intelligence, Christians must recognize the deeper, more insidious implications: this is an attempt to replace God's Spirit with a man-made intelligence, an abomination standing in the temple of God—the human body.

The Bible warns us of the "abomination of desolation" (Matthew 24:15, Daniel 9:27)—an idol or antichrist set up in the temple, declaring itself as God. While many have speculated about its exact nature, what we are witnessing today is eerily close. God created humans in His image, as living temples of the Holy Spirit (1 Corinthians 6:19). Yet now, sinister scientists and computer experts are devising an AI that seeks to take residence in that temple, calling itself god, cutting out the spiritual connection to the Creator, and replacing it with artificial intelligence. Transhumanism, part human, part AI computer intelligence. Could AI end up being the Antichrist?

The Unholy Alliance: AI's Billion-Dollar Backers

The Stargate Project is not merely an experiment; it is a full-scale takeover backed by some of the most powerful tech giants on the planet. The project is led by SoftBank, OpenAI, Oracle, and MGX, with Microsoft, NVIDIA, Oracle, and OpenAI serving as key technology partners. Microsoft, under the leadership of Bill Gates, has long been at the forefront of AI development, and its partnership with OpenAI only deepens this global push toward artificial general intelligence (AGI). This initiative is being sold to the public as a means to "elevate humanity," but at what cost? When a man believes he can "enhance" himself through AI, what he is truly doing is rejecting the leading of the Holy Spirit as well as God's perfect design. The Tower of Babel was man's first attempt to reach the heavens without God, and He swiftly brought it to ruin (Genesis 11:1-9). Now, AI used for dominance and transhumanism is the new tower, an idol of human arrogance, standing in defiance of the Creator.

AI in the Temple: The True Abomination of Desolation

The Bible foretold a time when something unnatural would stand where it does not belong, claiming the divine status. We are now seeing AI infiltrate every aspect of human life—decision-making, finance, healthcare, and even religion. The danger is clear:

- AI replaces human reasoning with algorithmic control.
- AI infiltrates the human body through brain-chip interfaces.
- AI is being positioned as a "higher intelligence" to which humanity must submit.

The Stargate Project and its powerful backers want AI to rule every sector of life. With billions of dollars behind it, this is not a theoretical concern—it is happening now. Oracle, NVIDIA, and OpenAI are actively collaborating to build and operate this massive AI computing system, with Microsoft's Azure platform playing a critical role in training advanced AI models.

Man is playing god, and God will not be mocked (Galatians 6:7).

Christians Must Wake Up Before It's Too Late

This is not just about technology—it is about the replacement of God with an artificial, godless intelligence inside the human body. We must ask ourselves:

- Are we allowing AI to replace the Holy Spirit in our lives?
- Are we blindly embracing technology without questioning its spiritual consequences?
- Will we remain silent while billions of dollars are funneled into developing intelligence that rejects the Creator?

The time to sound the alarm is now. God help us before it is too late. We cannot afford to be complacent. While man pushes forward in arrogance, thinking he knows more than God, the Church must stand firm, refusing to bow to this modern-day idol.

No machine, no intelligence—no matter how advanced—will ever replace the one true Spirit of God.

Let us remain steadfast, guarding the temple of the Holy Spirit and resisting the deception that AI seeks to bring. The abomination is rising, but God's people must not be deceived.

Get into a church that teaches how to live by faith and by the Holy Spirit. Exercise faith in your daily life and become skillful in using the Word of God. Be not deceived; we must nurture a daily relationship with the Lord Jesus. It is the ones who really know Him that will be saved in the end. They have His discernment in these deceptive times, and they rule and reign on earth as kings and priests unto God, the creator God of everything. AI will ultimately bow the knee to Jesus because it is written,

Phil 2:10 That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

Phil 2:11 And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Amen

Editors note: Let me make myself very clear: I am not saying all AI is evil or the Antichrist; just when it is in the wrong hands, it becomes that. This is just a warning against being ignorant or deceived as nefarious players attempt to use it to steal, kill, and destroy. We, the church, are to use it for soul-winning.

I Survived an Abortion. Democrats Think I Should Have Been Left to Die

By Melissa Ohden | LifeNews.com | Washington, DC

Last week, I found myself somewhere between frustration and determination, somewhere between DC and North Dakota, after speaking at the North Dakota Family Alliance conference. On my flight back for the March for Life, I received a text from a friend about an X post regarding the failed Senate cloture vote on the Born-Alive Abortion Survivor Protection Act.

I was both shocked yet simultaneously not surprised. Just when I think I've heard it all, pro-abortion Democrat Senator Cory Booker found a way to lower the bar.

In case you missed it, the post about the vote and born alive infants was entitled, "Today on $h*t that ain't true"

How professional of Sen. Booker, how compassionate.

Is this earth-shatteringly shocking? No, of course not. Sadly, we've seen this kind of dehumanizing rhetoric before.

But no matter how accustomed we become to this dismissive language, trivialize the truth that aborted babies are born alive, it's always deeply unsettling. This is the kind of language that fuels a complete denial of the reality many of us have witnessed firsthand—the reality that babies survive abortions, and many of them are left to die without care.

Despite all the research and studies on the incidence of "failed" abortions, the idea that such live births don't happen—can't happen?—is something that virtually all Democrats, the abortion industry, their lobby, and the mainstream media continue to push.

And it's not just an abstract political stance. This rhetoric directly affects the lives of abortion survivors and their families. For those who already feel unloved, unworthy, and unseen, this rhetoric adds salt to the wounds. The disservice done when public figures deny our existence infuriates me as a leader.

I wasn't going to let this rhetoric go unchallenged. Abortion nearly took my life and voice, but I will not let them take my voice again or silence and shame my fellow abortion survivors—and our mothers and families also impacted by abortions that didn't go as planned.

The unanimous Democrat Senate's backlash against survivors was a clear war waged ahead of the House vote that occurred Thursday afternoon. It passed the House with one lone Democrat vote. I wonder if it would have influenced those House members attacking the bill to know that there were eight survivors in the Gallery watching the vote, along with the adoptive parents of a survivor?

Despite the usual partisan attacks, being in that space was an empowering and historic opportunity—a chance to be seen, heard, and respected by those in power.

As some members of Congress, virtually all Democrats, continue to vote against the born-live survivor population and employ rhetoric to protect abortion, it takes the leadership and courage of pro-life members of Congress such as Senator James Lankford (R-Ok.), Speaker Mike Johnson (R-La.), and Congresswoman Ann Wagner (R-Mo.), among countless others.

When Democrats deny the research and experiences of abortion survivors, they reduced abortion survivors and all those impacted by failed abortions to political chess pieces in their game of big abortion. But we honor these pro-life Senators and Representative who remember us, who acknowledge us in statements on the floor, who came to press conferences, and who took time out of their very busy schedules to meet with us.

There were numerous memorable moments last week on the hill related to the vote on the Born-Alive Abortion Survivor Protection Act that give us great hope. This golden age in our nation is a great opportunity for us to have ongoing conversations about issues such born alive infants and the gaps in care and reporting.

Seeing the commitment to having these conversations and supporting the voices of those who can humanize the issue instills in me the hope that we will make progress on born alive legislation under the current administration and congressional leadership.

Survivors from The Abortion Survivors Network were seen and heard more than ever last week, and I know where a few are gathered, more will come. And frankly, it's time for those who deny our existence and dehumanize us to face us.

One of the most unforgettable moments of the week for me happened when I spoke alongside survivor Sarah Zagorski, Mary Szocho of the Family Research Council and Dr. Christina Francis of the Association of Pro-life Obstetricians and Gynecologists [AAPLOG] at a Family Caucus event on born a-

David Daleiden Celebrates Legal Victory: “Now We Must get to Work” Saving Babies From Abortion

Joshua Mercer | LifeNews.com | Washington, DC

The State of California agreed Jan. 27 to drop all charges against David Daleiden and Sandra Merritt for their undercover videos of Planned Parenthood officials from nearly 10 years ago. The prosecution against the pro-life activists was first launched in 2016 by then-Attorney General Kamala Harris. The Center for Medical Progress (CMP) announced Monday that Daleiden and Merritt had reached a plea agreement with the California Attorney General's Office. Daleiden oversees CMP, and Merritt worked as an investigative reporter for the pro-life group. Daleiden hailed the plea deal as “a huge victory” after going through nine years of prosecution weaponized for political purposes. “Now we all must get to work to protect families and infants from the criminal abortion-industrial complex,” Daleiden stated in CMP's press release. He added that the end of the case will allow him to focus on “CMP's mission to report on the injustices of taxpayer-funded experiments on aborted babies and continue to expand our groundbreaking investigative reporting.”

CMP reported that the agreement is “a negotiated settlement with zero punishment.” It is in exchange for a new “no contest” plea by Daleiden and Merritt on one video recording charge. There is no admission of wrongdoing, as well as no jail time, fines, or probation, according to CMP. “The new ‘no contest’ plea — which cannot be used adversely — will be entered into judgment as a misdemeanor in 6 to 12 months, and then converted to a ‘not guilty’ plea, dismissed, and expunged,” CMP stated. Merritt and Daleiden produced a series of undercover videos recorded at the National Abortion

Federation's (NAF) 2014 and 2015 abortion convention and trade shows, according to a press release from Merritt's le-... Continued on Page: 8

Noah's Second Day

From Page 3 ...they're going to heaven doing the things Satan got kicked out of heaven for! And they did not understand until the flood came and took them all away, so shall the coming of the Son of Man be. As in the first coming of Christ, the religious leaders of the day missed the coming King. They assumed when he came, he would free them from the bondage of the Roman government, peace and prosperity, and everything that appeals to the flesh. Jesus answered and said to them, “Destroy this temple, and in three days, I will raise it up.” The Jews, therefore, said, “It took 46 years to build his temple, and you will raise it up in three days?” (John 2:19-20) If they were around today, they would still be looking for the temple they can see with their eyes. While a sleeping church waits for a physical temple to be built, they are blinded to the fact that they are a part of a spiritual falling away. The spiritual taking place while they are waiting for the physical! The sleeping virgins are being destroyed today, and they don't even know it. They will scoff at warnings such as this as they did in the days of Noah. So, it will be at the second coming because they do not understand! He that has ears, let him hear! Therefore, when you see the Abomination of Desolation, which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place, let the reader understand. (Matthew 24:15) Flesh is looking for a temple built with hands. Do you not know that you are a temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? (1 Cor 3:16) So when you see church is having homosexual Abomination of Desolation sitting in the Holy Place? Wake up, sleeping church! It is raining more and more each day. They were asleep in the day of Noah; they are asleep now. The most terrible time that has ever come upon the earth since the beginning of mankind is upon us today! Satan is bringing increasing trials and tribulations against the church. We are entering a time of great spiritual darkness. The fiery trials on us today are the efforts of the world, the flesh, and the devil, to turn our hearts from God. And he said, “Go your way, Daniel, for these words are concealed and sealed up until the end time.” Many will be purged, purified, and refined, but the wicked will act wickedly, and none of the wicked will understand, but those who have insight (the refined) will understand. (Daniel 12:9-10) Every man will either come through the fire and be like gold (a divine nature) or wood, hay, and stubble, which is burned up; the fire will destroy all of those who walk after a form of godliness because they walk in disobedience. The Son of Man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of His Kingdom all stumbling blocks, those who commit lawlessness (tares), and will cast them into the furnace of fire (fiery trials). In that place there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth (hate, anger, bitterness, strife, jealousy, deeds of the flesh). Then the righteous (they walk in love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control, they walk in spirit) will shine forth as the sun in the Kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him here. (Matthew 13:41-43) No other foundation (the rock), except obedience to the Lord Jesus Christ, can survive this fire. (Matthew 7:24-27) As this shaking, destruction, and pressure increases, the foolish virgins will come to the wise virgins and want some of their oil. And the foolish said to the prudent, give us some of your oil, for our lamps (discernment) are going out (a time of spiritual darkness, we can't see what you see and are being destroyed and don't know why.) For the foolish virgins will name it, they will claim it, but when the storm hits in their lives, they won't be ready! Positive confession won't work because they have no roots, no foundation; they will be left shipwrecked! The peace and prosperity preachers have been saying all is well. By not warning the people, they have fallen asleep on the eve of judgment! Noah preached a message of repentance and the coming judgment for

120 years. A message I'm sure was as popular then as it is today. Noah preached until he entered the ark, and God closed the door. The wicked had no hope of mercy, and they all perished! By faith, Noah heard the voice of God's warning. We, too, by faith, must recognize the day of the Lord is near! If He came today, would He find you living in holiness; are there things in your life that the Spirit of God has been urging you to repent of, habits, thoughts, and desires that would embarrass you when He appears? Can you endure the day of His coming? Do you truly know him? Know of him won't do! “Not everyone who says to me Lord, Lord, will enter the Kingdom of Heaven, but he does the will of my Father who is in heaven. Many will say to me on that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name perform many miracles, and then I will declare to them I never knew you; depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness.” (Matthew 7:21-23) What about the people who do not believe in miracles; where do they stand? He is calling a bride to come forth and repent and lay her heart bare before the Lord, to enter the secret prayer chamber and say, “Lord, I have been lukewarm; I have left my first love; refine me with your fire (Revelation 3:18) Make me a pure bride; prepare me for the wedding, so that I will be awake at the cry and have my lamp full of oil! When the river tries to overflow them, it can't; when they are in the fiery furnace (Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego), the fourth man (Jesus) is with them. As they go into the wilderness or very dry places in their life, they will know that they are under the shadow of the most high! When they stumble, He will pick them up! As they go through the fire, they will learn to trust God. “And He humbled you and let you be hungry and fed you with Manna which you did not know, nor did your fathers know, that He might make you understand that man does not live by bread alone, but man lives by everything that proceeds out of the mouth of the Lord.” (Deut. 8:3) “In that day (Last Days) you will feel no shame, because of all your deeds by which you have rebelled against Me; for then I will remove from your midst your proud exulting ones, and you will never again be haughty on My holy mountain. But I will leave among you a humble and lowly people, and they will take refuge in the name of the Lord.” (Zephaniah 3:11) “And I will bring the third part through the fire, refine them as silver is refined, and test them as gold is tested. They will call on My name, and I will answer them, I will say, they are My people, and they will say, the Lord is my God.” (Zechariah 13:9) “Hallelujah! For the Lord our God, the Almighty reigns. Let us rejoice and be glad and give glory to Him, for the marriage of the Lamb has come and His bride has made herself ready (pure, spotless, holy and blameless.) And it was given to her to clothe herself in fine linen, bright and clean; for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the Saints.” (Rev 19:6-8) As in the days of Noah, a remnant got into the ark, and the wood protected them from the destruction of the flood. So it will be in the second coming of Christ. A remnant will get into the ark, and the wood will protect them from the fire and destruction of these last days, the wood of the cross! (Philippians 3:18) “For I, declare The Lord, will be a wall of fire around her, and I will be the glory in her midst.” (Zachariah 2:5) “Behold I am coming like a thief, blessed is the one who stays awake and keeps his garments, lest he walked about naked, and men see his shame.” (Rev 16:17) Listen for that quiet, small Voice in your soul. Do you hear a trumpet blowing?!! Even so, Lord Jesus, come quickly!

From Page 6 ...live policy. I stood up and asked the room, “If you've survived an abortion, would you please stand up?” The survivors in the room—my friends, my colleagues—stood. And for the first time, many of those in attendance truly saw the reality. I watched as tears filled the eyes of lawmakers and staffers, who were finally confronted with the truth that these survivors are walking among us. Y Before heading to the March for Life, survivors in our Network drew strength in a truly remarkable way. We were thrilled to meet with House Speaker Mike Johnson, House Majority Leader Rep. Steve Scalise, and House

Whip Rep. Tom Emmer. It was a personal visit, despite our meet-and-greet being cut short due to the House voting schedule. It was one of those rare moments when survivors were seen for who they are—not just as statistics or political pawns, but as living, breathing individuals with stories that need to be heard. The mainstream media and many Democratic lawmakers have been in lockstep denial about the existence of abortion survivors for as long as I can remember. In fact, I'm reminded of 2015 when the late Cecile Richards testified before Congress alongside Gianna Jessen and me. Richards outright claimed to have never heard of a baby surviving an abortion! This kind of denial is deeply entrenched. It's a refusal to acknowledge the truth: babies are born alive in “failed” abortions, and they desperately need and deserve care. Why do they fight so hard to keep this truth buried? The answer is simple: admitting that babies survive abortions would force our culture to confront the inherent violence and inhumanity of abortion itself. And if we ever did that—if our culture ever admitted that babies are not just a “clump of cells” or a “healthcare decision”—we would have to face the truth about what abortion really is. As we make America great again, maybe we can also make it finally supportive of abortion survivors, their mothers, and families. If last week was any indication, we may just get there thanks to the Trump administration of Donald Trump and Republican Congressional leader ship. As I tweeted that day along with photos Tell me one more time that abortions don't fail and babies aren't born alive. Here's just a small number of those who know their story and with the support of the Abortion Survivors Network are courageously sharing their faces and voices in a culture that has been hostile to our population. Welcome to the golden era of the pro-life, pro-family movement. We're just getting started. LifeNews Note: Melissa Ohden, who survived a saline abortion in 1977, is founder and CEO of the Abortion Survivors Network and author of “You Carried Me: A Daughter's Memoir.” This appeared in The Hill and is reposted with the author's permission.

President Trump Is "Honored" To Pardon 23 Pro-Life Americans

www.LC.org

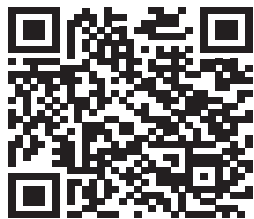

WASHINGTON, D.C. late-19th century Ku Klux Klan – In keeping with his campaign promise, President Donald Trump signed full and unconditional pardons yesterday for 23 peaceful pro-life advocates who had been unjustly prosecuted, convicted, and imprisoned under the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances, or FACE Act. The advocates' arrests and charges stem from different events, including peaceful protests in Washington, D.C., New York, Tennessee, and Michigan from 2020-2022. Most notably, in October 2020, 10 of the advocates were arrested for peaceful protesting outside a

Washington, D.C. late-19th century Ku Klux Klan Act – a clear "misuse" of both laws. The petition noted that even though a Holocaust survivor, and a Catholic priest – all "selfless, sincere patriots." The oldest of the advocates is 89-year-old Holocaust survivor Eva Edl who was arrested and charged for protesting at abortion clinics in Michigan and Tennessee. According to the petition, these peaceful pro-life Americans who were "mistreated" by the Biden administration included grandparents, pastors, a Holocaust survivor, and a Catholic priest – all "selfless, sincere patriots." The oldest of the advo-

Bevelyn Williams (41 months), and Calvin Zastrow (6 months). The pardons came on the eve of the 52nd annual March for Life rally where tens of thousands of pro-life supporters are expected to converge on the nation's capital to defend the sanctity of life. Liberty Counsel Founder and Chairman Mat Staver said, "These pardons reverse a grave travesty of justice. The Biden Justice Department shamefully weaponized the justice system and made these pro-life Americans into political prisoners for merely defending the most precious and most vulnerable among us. Now, their freedom is restored and they can return home to their families. We commend President Donald Trump for keeping his campaign promise and pardoning these pro-life heroes. Congress must now repeal the FACE Act to prevent this abuse of law from happening again."

According to a Jan. 28 press release from the Office of the California Attorney General Rob Bonta, Daleiden and Merritt both were found guilty of one felony count of violation of a California law prohibiting the recording of confidential conversations, and one of the plea deal agreements is that they may not name or have any contact with those involved in the conversations. According to CMP's press release, the undercover work "led to a $7.8 million settlement in which two companies admitted illegally selling aborted fetuses from Planned Parenthood in southern California, a settlement with disgorgement of profits from the sale of aborted fetal organs in Arizona, and the disqualification of Planned Parenthood from state and federal funding in Texas for violations of medical standards and ethics documented on the undercover footage—where Planned Parenthood now faces a nearly $2 billion federal False Claims Act case from the disqualification." Hon. Steve Cooley, the former Los Angeles County district attorney who led Daleiden's defense team, said that in his five decades as an attorney he had never seen "such a blatant exercise of selective investigation and vindictive prosecution." He added that the CA attorneys general who opened and pursued the case for almost 10 years "should be ashamed" for how they weaponized their office. Liberty Counsel represented Merritt for more than a decade and stated in a Jan. 27 press release that she had been charged with 16 felonies and had been facing over 10 years in prison. According to Liberty Counsel Founder and Chairman Mat Staver, the plea agreement drops the charges without fines, prison time, or other penalties. "This is an extraordinary result for Sandra," Staver said, "and the State of California deserves to walk away virtually empty handed." LifeNews Note: Joshua Mercer writes for CatholicVote, where this column originally appeared.

Lipid Nanoparticles in COVID Vaccines Travel to Vital Organs, Including Heart

A new study of the COVID-19 mRNA vaccine in mice found that lipid nanoparticles containing the spike protein dispersed to major vital organs, including the heart. Scientists say this type of research should have been done before the COVID-19 vaccines were rolled out to the global population.

By Brenda Baletti, Ph.D. | www.childrenshealthdefense.org

Lipid nanoparticles (LNPs), used to deliver the mRNA in the COVID-19 vaccine to the body's cells, don't remain in the injection site — they circulate throughout the entire body and reach vital organs, including the heart, according to a new paper published in Nature Biotechnology.

The findings “suggest a potential mechanism by which LNP-based mRNA vaccines could contribute to the reported cardiac complications,” including myocarditis,

the study authors wrote. Now published in one of the top scientific journals, the study's findings contradict claims by public health officials and scientists during the COVID-19 vaccine rollouts that the LNPs were safe because they traveled only to specific targeted sites in the body.

The authors said there is no existing adequate technology to trace where nanocarriers such as LNPs end up in the body after they are administered via intramuscular injection — especially for medication like vaccines, which contain low doses of the particles. In this study, authors developed an experimental technology to trace where different carriers of nanoparticles, including LNPs, end up in the body after intramuscular injection. They tested the technology in mice.

The researchers found that even at extremely low doses, LNPs carrying the SARS-CoV-2 spike protein mRNA reached vital organs. It reached heart tissue and caused cellular or tissue changes.

“COVID-19 mRNA injection LNPs systemically circulate and are taken up into vital organ systems resulting in body-wide toxic Spike protein production,” epidemiologist and McCullough Foundation administrator Nicolas Hulscher wrote on Substack.

According to Children's Health Defense Senior Scientist Karl Jablonowski, the common misconception early in the COVID-19 vaccine rollout was that the LNP “stays in the muscle cells.”

This idea was perpetuated by major publications, like Science and Open Forum Infectious Diseases — a journal funded in part by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Pfizer — even though Pfizer's own study showed that after just 8 hours, a mere 22% of the initially injected LNPs remain at the site of injection, 18% migrated to the liver and 1% migrated to the spleen.

“This paper is an excellent example of how false that statement was, finding intramuscularly injected LNPs in the heart, liver, kidney, spleen, head, and ‘all analyzed lymph nodes,’” Jablonowski said.

Research should have been done before mass vaccination, not after

According to the study, there are over 30 new drugs — including genome editing tools, mRNA and protein drugs — approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the European Medicines Agency to treat disease.

However, drug developers face a major challenge in the clinical application of these tools — how to ensure that the drugs reach only the cells they are targeting. To target specific cells, the drugs use “nanocarriers” — tiny particles that can carry a drug throughout the body — selected for their differential abilities to target particular cell types. There are several different types of nanocarriers, including liposomes, viral vectors and LNPs, which were used in the COVID-19 vaccine.

Nanocarriers are designed with a coating to make them stable and help them reach their target cells. However, when they are introduced into the body, they change in ways that make their intended functionality more unpredictable. Jablonowski said this change happens because proteins bind to the nanoparticles and affect where they will go and how they interact. “This interaction with environmental proteins is inescapable and one source of critical uncertainty,” he said.

That's what makes LNPs a risky gene therapy tool typically used only by people who are “fighting for their lives and willing to accept potential adverse effects that come from LNPs hitting the wrong target,” Jablonowski said. “A healthy person wouldn't be likely to take that serious risk for a small possible benefit.”

The researchers set out to develop a technology, called “Single Cell Precision Nanocarrier Identification,” designed to map and quantify where nanocarriers injected into a mouse ended up.

Their technology uses machine learning to analyze image data — making it possible to precisely quantify where the nanoparticles go at the organ, tissue and single-cell level across the entire body.

They specifically designed it to measure the low doses of the medications that are usually present in vaccines. Then they tested it on several different new types of drugs and were able to successfully identify where the nanoparticles went across a mouse's entire body.

After an LNP containing the SARS-CoV-2 spike protein mRNA was injected into the muscle, the researchers detected the mRNA and spike protein in the mice's liver, spleen, lungs, heart, head and kidneys. Their findings have “direct implications for clinical translation” of the drugs, they said. “Our finding of changes in the expression of immune and vascular proteins in heart tissue after LNP spike mRNA delivery aligns with reports of myocarditis and pericarditis in a subset of individuals who received mRNA vaccines,” they wrote.

As of Dec. 27, 2024, 27,357 cases of myocarditis and pericarditis had been reported not be used in living subjects. That means there is still no way to effectively track where LNPs go in living humans.

“This technology cannot provide the dynamic and longitudinal information that live animal methods, such as PET or bioluminescence imaging, offer,” Jablonowski said.

The study's authors said further research is needed to determine whether similar effects occur in humans and whether the molecular changes they found across the mice's bodies are linked to clinical symptoms.

Commenting on the authors' statement that the likely similar effects on humans should be explored in future work, Jablonowski said:

“Every vaccine regulatory body in the world that approved LNPs for mass distribution should feel the pang of their complacent hastiness, as that yet undone ‘future work’ needed to be done well before approval.

“The U.S. has a decade-long approval process for vaccines. Of all of those that have been approved so far, none are actually safe, but the process does eliminate some of the more egregious ones. Not yet 5 years since inception, the COVID-19 mRNA vaccine platform is looking more like an egregious one.”

Hulscher agreed, writing “Biodistribution studies should have been performed BEFORE mass ‘vaccination’ of the entire world's population.” He called for the “invasive gene therapy injections” to be pulled from the market immediately.

Christian Movies Bringing Hope to Prisons Nationwide

Rich Christiano, ChristianMovies.com | Contact: rich@christianmovies.com

Lake Forest, CA – January 2025 – ChristianMovies.com is thrilled to announce an exciting ministry opportunity that brings the message of hope and salvation to prisoners across the United States. Through a partnership with the ministry WorthyPeople.org, Christian films are being shown weekly on the PANDO app, a platform designed specifically for prisoners with tablets. These powerful Christ-honoring films, combined with follow-up gospel presentations, are reaching hundreds of thousands of prisoners weekly, offering them a chance to encounter the saving message of Christ.

Impact Highlights:

- Films like MindReader garnered 475,000 views in just nine days.
- Follow-up gospel videos receive 40,000–50,000 views each week.
- Prisoners can indicate decisions for Christ directly through the app.

How You Can Help: To sustain and expand this ministry, we are asking for additional support. While a church has generously sponsored many films, we aim to raise $100–$200 per film to support the filmmakers so they can receive something for showing their movies.

Individuals or groups can sponsor films like:

- A Matter of Faith
- Play the Flute
- The Secrets of Jonathan Sperry
- And many others of their choosing.

Sponsors have the unique opportunity to contribute to these life-changing efforts, and you can even create a follow-up gospel video to accompany your sponsored film.

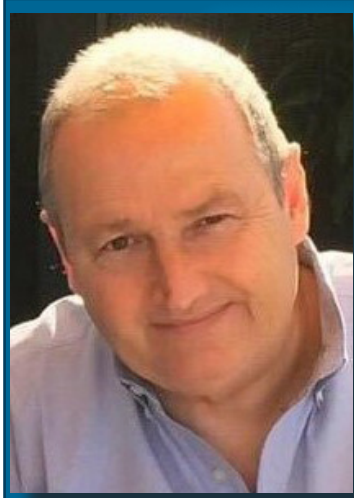

Join the Mission: Every sponsorship helps us show new films weekly and share the gospel with a captive audience. By supporting this ministry, you are investing in eternal impact, providing hope to those who need it most.

Contact Rich Christiano at rich@christianmovies.com to sponsor a film, discuss opportunities, or request more information.

Equipping Believers with Bible Knowledge and Practical Tools for Ministry

BRADENTON, FL – God-isReal.com is thrilled to announce the launch of the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy, a practical and spiritual faith-filled Bible study program designed to empower believers in their walk of faith and ministry work. This academy offers a variety of courses, all entirely online and completely free of charge, making high-quality Bible education accessible to everyone. While a free-will donation is encouraged, it is not required to participate.

A Vision for Spiritual Growth
 The vision of the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy is to:

- Equip believers

for spiritual warfare.

- Teach individuals who they are in Christ and how to walk in that identity.
- Instruct students on using their authority in the name of Jesus.
- Help participants become skilled in the Word of God.

Grounded in the Word of Faith, the academy emphasizes that God cannot lie and that believers can live victoriously by standing on His promises.

Comprehensive Course Offerings
 The academy's curriculum includes a variety of relevant and practical topics, such as:

- Healing Is Yours
- How to Be Sure I Am Going to Heaven
- Order in the Church

New courses are added frequently, ensuring a dynamic and enriching learning experience for all participants.

Ministerial Credentials and Continuing Education
 For those called to ministry, the academy offers the opportunity to earn ministerial credentials. These credentials are ideal for individuals seeking recognition for their work in areas such as hospital visitation, prison ministry, and other outreach programs. Courses include credit hours necessary for obtaining credentials as well as continuing education requirements for maintaining or advancing those credentials.

Easy Enrollment and Accessible Learning
 Enrolling in the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy is free and simple. The program includes downloadable study notes, making it easy for students to learn at their own pace.

Whether you're a new believer or a seasoned Christian, this academy provides valuable tools to deepen your faith and expand your ministry impact.

Get Started Today
 Visit Shepherds and Saints Training Academy to enroll today and begin your journey of spiritual growth and empowerment. With courses designed to build your faith and equip you for ministry, this is an opportunity you don't want to miss.

Frostbite Evangelism in 'Coldest Place On Earth'

By Slavic Gospel Association (SGA) | www.sga.org

LOVES PARK, Ill., Jan. 14, 2025 /Christian Newswire/ — It's called "frostbite evangelism" in what is officially the coldest inhabited place on earth. In Russia's Far East — home to the vast frozen tundra of Yakutia — temperatures in January can plummet to minus 58 degrees Fahrenheit, or minus 50 degrees Celsius. At such bone-chilling temperatures, exposed skin suffers frostbite in seconds, and beards and eyebrows freeze solid. Yet local Christian missionaries, brimming with evangelistic zeal, don't let the extreme Arctic conditions — or the challenge of traveling hundreds of miles across treacherous icy terrain — put them off. They're on an unstoppable mission to share the "good news" with people in the remotest outposts of Siberia and neighboring Yakutia in Russia's Far East — a region that's larger than Canada, the world's second biggest country by land mass.

Vast Mission Field
 Alexander is a local missionary pastor in Irkutsk, Siberia. He's one of thousands of local pastors and evangelical churches in the former Soviet Union supported by U.S.-based mission organization Slavic Gospel Association (SGA, www.sga.org), ministering to the physical and spiritual needs of families, widows, and orphans across 11 time zones.

For Alexander, the daunting Siberian tundra offers a vast mission field. During winter, members of his congregation brave freezing conditions to take the gospel message to the Buryats, a minority ethnic people of Mongolian origin that traditionally worship the sun, moon and stars. "There are many heights in the places they live, where their tribal people offer sacrifices," Alexander said. After decades of official atheism under communist rule, many Buryats don't believe in God — and have never even heard of Jesus Christ. It's a difficult mission field, but Alexander and his faithful flock support the growing local church among the Buryat people. On a recent visit, Alexander preached from the Old Testament book of Joshua, and encouraged the local Buryat pastor. "He'd never thought about (the Buryats) as a unique (people group) with characteristics, viewpoints, life principles, and so on. But when he began to consider this, he changed his attitude and (Buryats) began to attend the church."

'Earth's Coldest Inhabited Place'
 Mikhail is an SGA-supported missionary pastor in Yakutia, one of the remotest locations on earth, with its northern shoreline along the Arctic Ocean in northeast Russia. The Guinness World Records lists Yakutia as the coldest inhabited place on earth, with a winter record low temperature of minus 90 degrees Fahrenheit, or minus 67.7 degrees Celsius.

Mikhail visits isolated Yakut villages in areas that

Hospital Forced to Finish Killing Baby After Abortion Clinic Botches Abortion

Anne Reed | LifeNews.com | Carbondale, Illinois

An employee of Alamo Women's Clinic in Carbondale, Illinois, called 911 on September 5, 2023, to report that a woman needed to be transferred to a hospital emergency room "to finish her abortion procedure." "This is exactly what we warned the public about," said Operation Rescue President Troy Newman. "Dangerous, underregulated, abortion-inducing pills are forcing legitimate healthcare providers to become abortionists. This was already a problem with surgical abortions, but it has become rampant since chemical abortion has become the more prevalent method of child killing." No computer-aided dispatch transcript was made available, so what is known about this emergency is limited to the 911 audio. Click here to sign up for pro-life news alerts from LifeNews.com This killing center in the southern Illinois town of Carbondale, opened a few short months after Roe v. Wade was overturned. The small railroad town, with a population of less than 22,000, has become an abortion destination. Mothers in southern states where unborn babies are protected are unfortunately directed to Carbondale because of its close proximity. One Tennessee abortion clinic moved its killing center from Memphis to Carbondale, leaving its Memphis location open as a referral center where women are corralled to its Carbondale location. Carbondale is nationally recognized for its hospital birthing center that offers a safe and comfortable environment for birthing mothers. What was previously a safe harbor for moms and babies is now a bloody danger zone where emergency room staff and doctors are forced to become accessories to murder by "finishing" abortions. At that point, the healthcare providers must come to the rescue of moms who placed their trust in killers instead of life-saving doctors. This facility kills by means of surgical and chemical abortion, so it is not known which method resulted in an "incomplete" abortion. Did an inept abortionist fail to remove all the disembodied body parts of a baby ripped into pieces during a surgical abortion? Or did Misoprostol fail in its job to expel the child's remains after the first drug, Mifepristone, starved him or her to death? If so, how long did the woman suffer and bleed at home before returning to the facility for help? "In either case," said Newman, "an innocent child was murdered, a mother suffered possibly life-threatening complications that required hospitalization, and nurses and doctors were forced to finish the job of killers. I'm sure that is not what they committed themselves to medicine for the purpose of improving and saving lives." LifeNews Note: This article was originally published by Operation Rescue, a leading pro-life, Christian activist organization dedicated to exposing abortion abuses, demanding enforcement, saving innocent lives, and building an abortion-free America. The author, Anne Reed, is Senior Policy Advisor for Operation Rescue."

From Page 10: ...can be reached only by air or along frozen river beds. It takes three hours in a four-seater airplane to reach one community, where there is a small evangelical church. The aviation ministry is supported by SGA, a mission that has operated in Russia for more than 90 years. Recently, the local Yakut people asked Mikhail, "We have our own gods, so why have you exchanged them for another faith?" Mikhail, a native Yakut, took the opportunity to share his own journey of Christian faith with them. 'Impassable' Roads, 'Unwanted' Orphans came to their rescue. "It snows heavily in our region and it makes (our) way to the orphanage quite challenging," admitted a member of the team. Sometimes, they have to finish their journey on foot because the snow-covered roads are impassable in their vehicle. "The orphans look forward to these visits as the highlight of their week," said SGA senior vice president Eric Mock, a frequent visitor to Mikhail, a native Yakut, ages across the former Soviet Union. "Many of these children feel unwanted and abandoned," he said. "They've never felt the love of a parent, or heard that God loves them. The local Orphans Reborn teams show them the love and attention they're craving, and share the good news of the Bible with them." Founded in 1934, Slavic Gospel Association (SGA, www.sga.org) helps "forgotten" orphans, windows and families in Ukraine, Russia, the former Soviet countries of Eastern Europe, Central Asia, and Russian-speaking immigrants in Israel – caring for their physical needs and sharing the life-transforming Gospel. SGA supports an extensive grassroots network of local evangelical missionary pastors and churches in cities and rural villages across this vast region.

Florida Grand Jury Found “Pattern” of Deception Engulfing COVID-19 Shots

TALLAHASSEE, FL – Florida’s 22nd State-wide Grand Jury, convened by Governor Ron DeSantis to investigate COVID-19 shot manufacturing, recently published its final report revealing widespread deceptive practices between the FDA, Pfizer, and Moderna to hide deaths and other serious side effects of the COVID shots from the public.

While the grand jury’s criminal investigation heavily criticized shot manufacturers and FDA regulators for “cutting corners” and working “hand-in-glove” to speedily deliver these shots to market, the grand jury levied no indictments and specifically concluded nothing “illegal” occurred in the COVID-19 shot process. However, the investigators did find “a pattern of deceptive and obfuscatory behavior” on the part of Pfizer, Moderna and government regulators that they said “should probably not be legal.”

“Hiding the details, methodology and results of scores of safety investigations from public view does not build public confidence; it undermines it,” wrote the grand jury. “The FDA would not speak to us directly, so we are not sure what their excuse would be for not holding Pfizer and Moderna’s feet to the fire. Frankly, we are not sure any answer would satisfy us at this point, nor should it satisfy anyone else.”

As a result, the grand jury made many recommendations, some of which included:

- Conduct new clinical trials for the Pfizer and Moderna shots to establish reliable clinical data.
- The FDA should reinstate a ban on “direct-to-consumer” advertising of therapeutics.
- The federal government should adopt a framework that impedes the “revolving door” of private-sector employees and lobbyists moving in and out of regulatory agencies.
- Drug companies should be required to publicly disclose adverse side effects and safety problems.
- Drug sponsors who do not comply with data transparency requirements should lose federal legal immunity.

Throughout each company’s clinical trials, follow-up safety data analysis, and advertising campaigns, the grand jury stated that a “lack of tension” from an oversight standpoint between federal regulators and the “for-profit pharmaceutical industry” set conditions for both sides to do things that should be illegal.

The report explained that Operation Warp Speed set the stage for unethical conduct by offering drug companies two potential revenue streams, which consisted of up front development money to formulate and test COVID shots followed by “lucrative guaranteed contracts” to mass produce them. The investigators said these financial incentives set up a “derby” for the manufacturers to get their injections quickly through the clinical trial process to get to an Emergency-Use Authorization (EUA) and licensure “finish line” and reap the benefits of those contracts.

One of the many compromises the grand jury found in this accelerated process involved abnormal clinical trial protocols that allowed for delays in reporting findings and even year-long obfuscations of serious adverse side effects, such as deaths. According to the report, at least a dozen people in Pfizer’s and Moderna’s clinical trials developed Vaccine-Related Myocarditis and Pericarditis (VRMP). These companies said that VRMP cases are “generally mild” and “tend to resolve on their own with no long-term effects.” Yet, with millions of administered doses by August 2022, there were 283 reported VRMP deaths from Pfizer’s shot and 65 deaths from Moderna’s shot. The grand jury revealed the dozen VRMP cases during the trials had “only come to light” in February 2024, and even then the information was “buried deep” in a tabled report appendix absent of any amplifying information. When subpoenaed, both Pfizer and Moderna declined to give the grand jury any more information regarding deaths attributed to VRMP after August 2022, which the investigators believed there to be more.

This dangerous VRMP safety issue even prompted the FDA back in 2021 to mandate specific long-range studies on the matter. To date, both Pfizer and Moderna have either not completed or even initiated such studies. In addition, Pfizer and Moderna have routinely missed deadlines regarding clinical pregnancy groups where their data is not yet publicly available.

Regarding booster shots, the manufacturers either delayed publishing or simply didn’t publish any journal articles detailing serious side effects from their trial groups, which in a way kept the FDA endorsing the booster shots. The grand jury believes that both Pfizer and Moderna “took advantage” of the years of lag time in the scientific journal publishing process to avoid reporting serious adverse events. But when other experienced and respected scientists dissented against the safety and efficacy narratives of the shots, they “saw their careers turned upside down” for not accepting “the science.” Rather, the report stated, “experts with opinions matching those of the regulators filled the gaps with contrived research and ill-conceived propagandaizing citizens into believing things about the SARS-CoV-2 virus that simply were not true.”

Only with “subpoena power” is the public able to get a clear picture of the side effects related to the shots, the report stated.

The grand jury also illustrated the advertising opposition that dissenting viewpoints faced with Pfizer’s massive $10 billion spent on marketing between 2020-2023. The U.S. is only one of two countries in the world that allows drug companies to advertise their products directly to consumers. The FDA requires drug sponsors to disclose their ingredients and side effects associated with their products. However, these requirements apply to ads that promote specific vaccines, but not ads promoting vaccination in general. The report noted that “unbranded” advertising that did not mention a drug by name could still promote shots in EUA status only if they were advertising “just the act of getting vaccinated.” The report stated the “conceit” of these ads allow drug companies to avoid disclosing risks while promoting the potential benefits of their products with little to no regulatory oversight. “It is frustrating to this Grand Jury, as it should be frustrating to everyone who reads this report, to know that these sponsors have taken in billions of taxpayer dollars for creating and selling their vaccines; they cannot be sued if something goes wrong with them; they have access to critical information about deaths related to a side effect of their products; and the public does not have access to that information,” wrote the grand jury. “Somehow, withholding this valuable safety information is not a crime. It certainly should be.”

Liberty Counsel Founder and Chairman Matthew Staver said, “This final report from the grand jury shows that the U.S. drug approval and licensing system needs a wholesale overhaul. A pandemic emergency is no excuse to compromise ethical standards and hide deaths from the public. The FDA sacrificed the regulatory will to keep the ‘for-profit’ pharmaceutical industry in check and people lost lives. This should have been illegal. There needs to be friction between regulatory agencies and drug companies so this never happens again. For all their taxpayer dollars, Americans deserve federal watchdogs not federal lapdogs of Big Pharma.”
