God of Miracles: RW Schambach and the Night of 26 Healings

RW Schambach Ministries, By He's Alive Staff Writer

It was 1957 in Birmingham, Alabama, during a revival meeting with the late evangelist A.A. Allen, when the power of God fell in one of the most astonishing displays of divine healing ever witnessed. R.W. Schambach, a young minister at the time, recounts what happened that night with unshakable detail—because he saw it with his own eyes. "We were in Birmingham, Alabama, when I was with Brother Allen, and a woman brought a little boy, four years of age, who was born with 26 diseases," Schambach testified. "He had no male organs on his body. He was born blind, deaf, and dumb. His tongue hung out of his mouth and lay on his chin. Both arms and legs were twisted and matted together. His elbows penetrated into his tummy, his knees touched the elbows, and he had no feet—only clubs." This mother had come from Knoxville, Tennessee, staying in a hotel and giving in every offering—three times a day. She had come full of faith but had run out of money. After hearing R.W. Schambach preach on faith throughout the week, her prayer card had still not been called. She approached Schambach after one of the services, pleading, "Brother Schambach, I'm down to my last $20. My boy hasn't been prayed for. Can you do something?" Schambach promised, "If Brother Allen doesn't call his card tonight, I'll carry that boy to his trailer house myself and make him lay hands on him." That night, Allen opened the service by asking for an "offering of faith." He told the crowd of 3,000: "Give something you can't afford to give. If you can afford it, there's no faith attached to it." Schambach watched as the mother ran down the aisle and tossed something into the offering bucket. Curious, he looked inside. "It was the $20 bill. Her last money. And she lived in Knoxville. But she said, 'Lord, I'll walk home if you just heal my baby.'" Schambach ran behind the platform and wept. "I said, 'God, give me faith like that woman's got.'" Then came the moment. Allen, mid-sermon, stopped suddenly and began describing a vision. "I see a big white building... It's a maternity ward. I see 12 doctors around a baby born with 26 major diseases. The doctor said he wouldn't live to his first birthday. But the doctor was wrong. That

From Deathbed to Destiny: The Miraculous Healing and Prophetic Ministry of Prophetess Rita Bullock

By Pastor Chuck Kennedy | He's Alive News | Bradenton, FL

In the 1980s, at Living Word Church in Pelham, Alabama—under the leadership of Pastor Truett Murphy—a prophetess from Louisiana visited with a testimony that forever marked my life and the lives of many others. Her name was Rita Bullock, a mighty woman of God, a seer, and a voice of unshakable faith. She told the story in person with such conviction that the walls seemed to to echo with the glory of God. Diagnosed with terminal cancer, Rita was in her final stages of life. The disease had ravaged her body to the point of open wounds where the cancer had literally eaten her flesh. Doctors had given up. Tubes surrounded her in the hospital bed, and her condition deteriorated to the point that she slipped into a coma. That night, the doctors told her immediate family to gather the rest of the family—it was time to say their last goodbyes. They planned to remove her from life support the next morning. But God had other plans. That night, while Rita lay unconscious and dying by all natural accounts, Jesus Christ Himself appeared in her hospital room. Accompanied by angels dressed in colors...

Did someone ever try to curse you? This happened to me on the Native American Reservation by people who claimed to be Christians! Some missionaries can be very territorial and think they have ownership of certain areas. We also had dealings with a witch doctor who lived in a center for the elderly. We would go there to hold Bible studies each week. She was friendly, but that's all. Matthew 24:25. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away. God works in ways we do not understand at times, but the Word of God never goes out void. It fulfills what He wants it to fill. Here's a humorous story. At the Elder home, a man asked Jesus into his heart. He is a Native American, and it is difficult for them to give up the old ways of their ancestors. He told Bob and I that he didn't have enough money to pay for the rent at his dwelling. So we prayed over him, asking God for a miracle for the funds he needed. A week later, we saw him again, and he was full of excitement! He told us he took his few coins, played the slot machines at the local casino, and had a big win! Enough to pay his rent! He said, "You were right! God gave me a miracle!" We just congratulated him with smiles and hugs. God gave him a miracle in the way that God wanted to do it. Entering a house on the Res, we saw demons on display. A little girl ran round and round our prayer circle many times. It was unusual how fast she ran around. Upstairs, we encountered a young man sitting on a bed playing video games. When I started to tell him about Jesus, he kept rolling his eyes upward until all we saw was the whites of his eyes. His pupils completely disappeared. He kept doing this over and over. It was supposed to scare us off. In another instance, we were ministering on White Earth Reservation, and a little Native American man came walking up to us with his cane. On his neck hung a medicine bag. Only God knows what was in that bag! There are many fetishes believed to have magical powers and that they are inhabited by spirits. We know it is a form of witchcraft. As he advanced toward us, the Holy Spirit came upon me like a supernatural wave. I said, "You are just in time to hear the good news!" As we prayed over him, he immediately accepted Jesus as Savior and Deliverer. He was Born Again! He quickly took off his medicine bag and handed it to me. The next day, he came back without the cane, and he had a much younger appearance! Later, we were told he entered an elder facility. What a joyful experience we had! The children run wild all over the Res, as their parents are incarcerated, or worse, they are dead. As we drove them to church, they would say things like...I see a face in my window, etc. The drugs and alcohol on the Res let in many demons. Most people understand that Native People have little resistance to alcohol introduced by the white man. So, alcoholism and diabetes run rampant on the Res. If you don't see a government house boarded up with plywood, you probably see wheelchair ramps because there is so much disability. Before I understood God's Word on the matter of curses, I would at times feel a spirit of fear try to overtake me. Prov. 26:2: Like a sparrow in its flitting, like a sparrow in its flying, a curse that is causeless does not alight. Psalm 109:19-29: Now may his curses return and cling to him like clothing; may they be tied around him like a belt. Underserved curses return to the one who curses. Romans 8:33: Who will bring any charge against God's elect? Do you understand this? This means any sickness, depression, or despair is a curse from Satan. Temptation, physical suffering, weakness, financial disaster... Ask yourself, "Is the Lord Jesus on board? Is He the Captain? The Word and the Holy Spirit will keep you absolutely safe from every illness. God will take care of you. He must, in order to be true to His Word, which He has magnified above His Name. Perhaps right now you...

GOD’S ARMY

HOW REVIVAL STARTS

By Sarah Jansson | Apostolic/Prophetic Ministry

REVIVAL starts on the heels of total surrender to the total will and purposes of God for your life. Then they will see that genuine walk with the Holy Spirit is ignited in others one by one, as they see your genuine passion for Christ in your life. A total yielding to the work of the cross within one's soul. A total meshing of one's life within the life of Christ. You hate the things he hates and love the things He loves first and foremost within yourself. So that your heart's prayer is a genuine cry of: "It is not I who live but Christ Jesus who lives within me!" You truly desire to pray as He prays, do the things that you see Him do, and walk the walk that He has for you day by day, that your carnal flesh would not seek to receive any glory, and get in the way day by day, but all glory would go to the Lord.

REVIVAL starts with you! REVIVAL starts as you make the choice to surrender completely to the Holy Spirit in your life. It starts with a dying to your carnal flesh, and all that your flesh wants to do, be, say, and act out, to the complete surrender of the purposes and plans God has and had for you from the moment you were conceived in your mother's womb. It is a daily surrender and the prayer from the heart of "It is not I who live, my Lord, but Christ (YOU) who lives in and through me, to accomplish through the Holy Spirit in my life, all You have for me today!" REVIVAL also happens as you receive a genuine passion for the lost, and not by reasons of the flesh that still bear the opening of wounds that yet need to be healed. As the world sees the genuine light and love that comes from above pour out from one's heart for them, and the salt that is truly pure that pours out from one's soul not contaminated with the works and reasons of the flesh, then THE CHURCH IS READY TO SEE GENUINE REVIVAL UPON THE EARTH.

PRAY: "Lord, do the work that needs to be done in my life, so it is not I who live, but Christ Jesus the Messiah who lives within and through me to the glory of God." Burn out anything in my life that stands in Your way from bringing heaven down to earth through my life. Let my life be all to Your glory in Jesus' name..... As we pray daily as David prayed, " Create in me a clean heart, oh God," and "Not my will be done, Oh Lord, but thy will be done in and through me today!" "Create in me a clean heart, oh God, also involves looking within, examining oneself, and allowing the Holy Spirit to show you if there are any selfish motives and intents for your desire to move forward in ministry, and for all you are endeavoring to do for the Lord. Anything that is born of the flesh, fleshly desires will burn up as wood, hay, and stubble. The Word of God says, only that which is done out of a pure heart for the Lord's glory will shine before Him as 24K gold and will last on the day of judgment. We must always allow the Holy Spirit to examine our hearts each time, to show us if what we are doing is truly for the Lord's glory and His alone. We must always examine everything with the Word of God, as the Holy Spirit will never lead you away from the Word of God, but will always line everything up with the power of His Holy Word. It's by the power of the Holy Spirit in your life that you turn over the reins of your life, your will, emotions, and even your time to Him and pray following His leading step by step, day by day, moment by moment. When you do, He will not leave you or forsake you. The Word of God says, as you wait for Him and follow His leadings and promptings day by day, step by step, and even moment by moment, you will find that He is there for you every time. You can do abundantly above and beyond all your highest dreams, desires, expectations, hopes, and prayers, as you let Christ in you take over, and your prayer is "Not I Who Live, But Christ Who Lives in Me!" REVIVAL starts with a heart of worship! A heart to worship Him for all He is and has done! Know as you step out to obey the will of God in your life, and bring REVIVAL to a lost, hurting, and dying world, in the ways and places He has for your life, and the season you are presently in, He will always be with you. He will empower you to do all He has called you to do, and His favor will be upon your life as you move forward in faith day by day, step by step. You will look back someday and see that He truly has done above and beyond all that you have ever thought, and much more than you ever thought possible, because you kept your heart right with the Lord every step of the way. You might see the times where you missed it along life's way, but you repented, got washed with the Blood of Jesus, allowed the Holy Spirit to pick you up, and helped you to move forward unto the mark of the high calling in your life. Know that the Lord can use everything. Even what the enemy means for evil, God can turn it for His glory, if you let Him, if you trust Him, and turn it all over to Him, and into a testimony in your life, to help the many people He puts in your path. Glory to God. Many Blessings, Sarah Jansson, sarah\_jansson@hotmail.com G.C.M.A. S.W. No purchase Necessary

In these perilous times, the gospel must go forth like never before. As believers, we are called to steward our resources wisely, ensuring that God's work continues—not just during our lifetime but even after we have gone home to be with the Lord.

One of the simplest and most powerful ways to support the gospel is by tithing on your estate through life insurance or annuities. Many assume estate-giving is only for the wealthy, but the truth is, when many believers each contribute a portion, we can collectively and miraculously fund the Kingdom. You can easily designate a portion of your existing life insurance policy—or purchase a new, affordable policy—naming your church, a ministry, a missionary, or an orphanage as a beneficiary. It's as simple as updating your beneficiary designation or setting up a policy with this purpose in mind. If you rely on an income now, like an annuity, you can also structure one to continue funding the gospel after your passing.

Think about it: Would your church miss your tithe when you're gone? What about the missionaries, ministries, and outreaches that depend on your monthly support? With a little planning, you can ensure they continue receiving support, even in your absence.

This is not about taking away from your family's needs—it's about comfortably and affordably protecting both your loved ones and the work of the Lord. God honors the giver, and as Scripture reminds us, "Give, and it shall be given unto you" (Luke 6:38). At WeFundTheGospel.org, we specialize in utilizing proven financial tools to effectively fund the gospel. Whether it's through life insurance, annuities, or legacy planning, our mission is to help everyday believers leave an eternal impact.

To help you take the first step, we're offering a FREE Will or Living Trust—prepared by Christian attorneys and valid in all 50 states—with absolutely no obligation to purchase anything. This is our gift to you.

Healing Testimony

By Jerry Schmidt

I want to share with you a miracle that the Lord performed in my life just recently. I give all the glory to the Lord Jesus Christ, the great physician. It was May 2nd, 2025. It was Friday in the afternoon, about 1 or 2 o'clock. Suddenly, I did not feel good and felt like I was going to pass out. I had chest pain in the area of my heart. I did not know what was going on. I had never experienced anything like this before. I sat down and decided to take my blood pressure, and it was 188/something. It had never been that high before. Not Good! It was Friday afternoon, and I knew that the doctors were already home. My PCP goes home early on Fridays. I knew from experience dealing with my wife Linda, every time I took her into emergency there was always a 4 to 6 hour wait. I also had heard from friends that they experienced the same problem. One time with Linda, she was taken to the ER by ambulance, and she was given a room in the ER, and I sat there with her for the next 4 hours before a doctor came in and checked her out. I didn't want to deal with that. The hospitals in Florida are short-staffed with the snowbirds down here. I prayed and asked the Lord what I should do. What else was scary was the Friday before April 25th my cousin Debby in Minnesota went home to be with the Lord. I thought am I next? I knew that I was under attack. I kept praying, and the Lord spoke. I was supposed to usher that night in church, and on Saturday, I was supposed to attend a Full Gospel Businessmen's meeting, then on Sunday, I was supposed to usher again in Church. The Lord said, cancel everything that you were going to do and stay home and spend time with me. Do not talk to anyone. Get into the Word of God and study healing scriptures. Quit drinking coffee and stay off salt. When I quit drinking coffee and went through about 7 days of withdrawals, and eliminated anything with salt. He also had me to go on a Mediterranean diet. Quit eating junk food and go to more vegetables and fruits. I immediately started reading Healing scriptures and copying them down. I ended up with about 26 pages of healing scriptures. Then I wrote under each scripture what the meaning of each scripture was. As soon as I started reading healing scripture, I could feel my body being healed. The bad symptoms were leaving. On Wednesday, when I got up in the morning, I was really dragging and was wondering why. Then, in the afternoon, I felt the demonic spirit lift off me. The Word Works. The spiritual attack lifted. I am now set free. All this time, my blood pressure was going back to normal, and all chest pain left me. Just recently, I had blood work done and was checked out by a doctor, and my blood work is normal, and my blood pressure is normal. My blood pressure is now on an average of 124/73/58 or less. That is good for my age. I also checked my blood sugar, and that is normal. I will be 76 this year, and I take no medications. The Lord healed me. I am still studying the Word on healing, and I am also teaching it. I am seeing results. I thank the Lord for His Word and His healing. I realize that this attack was of the devil and that he was trying to stop me from what God has for me to do. My work is not done yet on planet Earth. There is still more for me to do. Whatever that work is, the Lord knows. It must be important for the devil to attack me and try to stop me. I... Continued Page: 6

From Deathbed to Destiny: of Prophetess Rita Bullock

From Page 1: of the rainbow, they surrounded her with glory. She described how the Lord spoke with her personally, while the angels touched every part of her body that had been afflicted. When she awoke the next morning, the hospital staff was stunned. She asked for breakfast. The nurses hesitated, saying, "It will kill you." But the doctors, already certain she would die, allowed it. She ate. And she lived. Within three days, Rita Bullock walked out of the hospital cancer-free—completely healed by the power of God. Not in remission. Healed. Never again did cancer return. From that moment on, she dedicated her life even more fervently to preaching the miraculous power of Jesus Christ. Her life became a living testimony of Isaiah 53:5: "With His stripes we are healed." Rita never changed her confession. She never wavered in her faith, even as her physical-body appeared to betray her. Her miracle stands as a bold declaration to the Church: Jesus is still the Healer. But her healing was only part of the story. Rita Bullock was also one of the most accurate prophets I have ever encountered. She walked in the gift of prophecy with such clarity and power that it often left entire congregations weeping, repenting, or rejoicing in awe. The Word of the Lord would come through her with pinpoint precision, reading hearts, confirming callings, and unlocking destinies. After her miraculous healing, she spent the rest of her life traveling from church to church across the country, sharing both the testimony of God's healing power—even in the most hopeless situations—and delivering prophetic words to individuals and congregations alike. Her boldness was only matched by her compassion, and her ministry bore fruit that remains to this day. She was a vessel of God's supernatural love, power, and purpose. Rita Bullock, later known as Rita Zachary Bullock-Forbes, continued her ministry until she went home to be with the Lord in 2003 at the age of 86. As noted in her obituary published in The Advocate (Baton Rouge) on August 27, 2003, she was an ordained lay minister with Bethany World Prayer Center and passed peacefully at her residence in Baton Rouge. She was a mother, a sister, a faithful minister, and above all, a woman whose life proclaimed the undeniable truth—that Jesus still does miracles, and He still speaks through His prophets. Let her story inspire faith in this generation. For those standing in the valley of sickness, uncertainty, or silence—remember Rita. Remember the angels. Remember the Savior who still walks into hospital rooms and whispers Life to His people. What a mighty God we serve!

When God Says Yes: A Mother's Journey Home TESTIMONY OF MY MOM

By Rhonda Jackson

Keith & Rhonda

Ever have God tell you something or answer a prayer, and you knew that you knew, that you knew, it was from God? In 2008, God gave Keith and me peace about buying the property next to us. He gave us a deal that only He could do. We thought we were buying the property only for the land. Because we did not want to be landlords, but I knew deep down that someday my mom would move and live there. When I told my mom about buying the house next door, and she could live next to us, she said she was never going to leave her home, and she was going to die there. There were family members who said the same thing. I knew what God said. Since I trusted God, I prayed for her in so many different ways, for her salvation, to change her spirit from Saul to Paul, and to soften her heart so she would want to move. We ended up renting out the house to a friend of ours whom we had not seen in five years. We ran into him at a gas station. He asked if we knew of anyone who had a house for rent. Talk about God putting us in the right place at the right time. He lived there for 6 years. After he moved, I asked Mom again about moving. She and her family told me again that she will not move and will die in the house. She has lived in her house since 1966. That is a long time. She was 23 years old. I never gave up on praying for her salvation and peace. During that time, I was teaching Sunday School, and was going over my lessons with her, and I mailed scriptures. Besides, still praying from Saul to Paul. 1 John 5:14 & 15 (Con-

We are certain God will hear our prayers when we ask for what pleases him. 15 And if we know God listens when we pray, we are sure our prayers have already been answered. We ended up getting another renter. Friends of ours who we invited over to have dinner with us. We did not know they were looking for a new place to live. Again, God put us in the right place at the right time. If God be for us, who can be against us - Romans 8:31 I never stopped speaking the Word of God to my mom or stopped praying for her. During the time of the fall of 2020, Keith and I started going to a new Church, House of Victory, and I thank them all continually for continuing to agree with me for my mom to move. Because we never received that... Continued Page: 5

An adventure into the Supernatural

This is a book with a message. A walk into the supernatural. The story shows how some families have trails of chronic sickness, depression anger, habits of booze and drugs, suicide attempts and tiredness constantly. These are not brought on necessarily by emotions. There is something sinister and evil in the background, it's a battle between angels who fight evil spirits with bolts of lightning and demons fighting for the souls of men. The story follows four families three generations to see how demons are passed from one to another. It reads like a movie.

This story was birthed and written from the spirit and imagination of the author.

The characters and situations will hold the reader's attention because they are so common and believable. Have you noticed in your family line one generation to the next besetting habits, tempers, abuse, poverty or early deaths? This story shows the trail of evil and good spirits in the lives of four families. They can only be supernaturally involved. We all know who they are, but how will they affect your family? Some of these entities stay in a family for decades. There is a way to bind them.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

The author found herself jetting on tour with the Rolling Stones when she was just 19. One stop was NYC, New York. It beckoned to her and so became her new home. One night she crossed the line with a spirit that stayed with her communicating for years. Her story became a best seller in both New Zealand, and Australia where she lived later. It was the reality of spirit figures that prompted the book you're now holding, Soul Wars.

When God Says Yes: A Mother's Journey Home TESTIMONY OF MY MOM

From Page 4 ...kind of loving support before. It is important not to lose sight of those blessings and promises God has given to us. God is both willing and able to work things out on our behalf, sometimes in supernatural ways, and of course, all in His timing. Eleven more years have passed, and now I am leaving prayers on mom's closed caption phone so that she could read them. Besides that, she has been praying with me in Jesus' name. Our renter ended up moving out in August 2024. Mom and the family members are still saying no. But The Holy Spirit rose itself in me, and told me, "We are not going to call this house, "the rent house" anymore, it is my mom's house." Talk about the looks I got. Family, friends, believers, and non-believers thought I was crazy. I stepped up my prayer life. Psalm 37:4 (NKJV) Delight yourself also in the Lord, and He shall give you the desires of your heart. The verse before it says Psalm 37:3 (NKJV) Trust in the Lord, and do good; Dwell in the land, and feed on His faithfulness. I was fully invested. Tony Evans said this, "Faith is acting like something is so, even when it is not so, in order that it might be so, simply because God said so." Six months later, in February 2025, we were still working on her home, and she was still saying no. I did not care what anyone was saying or what they were thinking because I could see God move. It was a matter of time. In April, we were getting close to being done with Mom's house. The boldness of the Holy Spirit came upon me, and I asked Mom if I could start buying furniture for your new home, and she said yes. It took me a week before I could tell anyone what God did. I was overwhelmed with what our God did; it was incredible. But I also realized that my spiritual fight was not over. Like a few days before I was going to leave to go get her from Michigan, she was getting overwhelmed and scared. I reminded her God has her, and it is going to be okay. Ever since, she is fighting her giants with God, she has to; it is the only way she can win to press on. Knowing He is in control. My mom took the journey of moving 500 miles from her home to her new home. I praise God for working it all out in His timing, because it was His timing that caused my faith to grow, and my heart to be healed of unforgiveness and to love her, like He loves her. We must accept God's promises as truth, and

Worship with Sharilee, Prophetic Devotionals

By Sharilee Rudolph | fruitful4him@outlook.com

"The Lord himself watches over you! The Lord stands beside you as your protective shade. The sun will not hurt you by day, nor the moon at night. The Lord keeps you from all evil and preserves your life. The Lord keeps watch over you as you come and go, both now and forever."

Hallelujah! The Lord himself watches over me. He stands beside me as my protective shade! He keeps me from all evil! My life is preserved by the Lord! Day and night he keeps watch over my soul! Both now and forever I am watched by the Lord! Oh what joy is mine! Leaning on the everlasting arms of the Lord. Beloved, look no further for help but to the Lord. He is committed to watching over you. You can safely stand because He stands with you. Lean upon Him in every circumstance and rest in His keeping power. In Jesus name, the Lord. In Jesus name I live.

God of Miracles: RW Schambach and the Night of 26 Healings

...baby's almost four. I see a woman stuffing a suitcase. Another woman is helping her. They're driving an old Ford across the Tennessee-Alabama border... They are here in this meeting tonight; Lady, bring me your baby. God's going to give you 26 miracles now!"

She brought the child to the man of God, and Allen began to walk the platform with the boy in his arms. Schambach leapt from his seat and followed.

"He said, 'Close your eyes and pray.' I said, 'Not me, Mister. I've been waiting all week. I'm going to watch this one.'"

Then the miracles began.

"The tongue snapped into his mouth like a rubber band. His blind eyes, milky and without color, suddenly swirled with whirlpools, and you could see beautiful blue eyes form. His arms and legs snapped out straight. And I saw God create feet where there were none before—like He was using silly putty." Tears flowed across the sanctuary. People fell under the power of God. It wasn't hype. It wasn't manipulation. It was the manifest glory of the living Christ.

"The mother stood on the side of the platform, arms raised, tears flowing. The boy—who had never walked, talked, or seen his mama—ran to her crying, 'Mama! Mama!'"

But it didn't stop there. Twelve people in wheelchairs stood up, all at once—some paralyzed from motorcycle accidents. Stretchers lined the other side of the platform. As if orchestrated by a divine maestro, the people in wheelchairs began rising to their feet. Two dozen hearing aids were laid on the platform. Blind canes, walkers, glasses, and crutches—all left behind by people who were instantly healed.

"Nobody laid hands on them," Schambach said, "but somebody did. It was the nail-scarred hand of Calvary."

"Six totally blind people—white canes and all—received their sight. Women lost four and five dress sizes as tumors disappeared. Every person in the building was healed. Every person!"

Schambach concluded with trembling reverence: "People ask me, 'Why?

How?' All I can say is—God lifted the veil. He showed me what He's going to do in this last day. Not two out of ten. Not eight out of ten. But I believe we're living in the day when everybody's going to get healed. And no man will take the glory. It'll be God working through His people."

"You are the anointed ones of God," he declared. "Can you raise your hands and shout Amen?"

Jesus Saved Me from Death

By Rev. Dr Samuel Massey | samueljohnmiracle@gmail.com

Jesus saved me miraculously in North India. After being saved, I was so full of joy and peace. I wanted to share the love and miracle-working power of Jesus with everyone in this world. I collected hundreds of tracts, gospel literature, Bibles, and Gideons' New Testaments, which I then distributed to my friends, passersby on the street, and at street corners.

After I got admitted to engineering college, I would visit my home on weekends by train. It was then that Jesus instilled in my heart a desire to distribute tracts at railway stations, bus stations, and parks. When some trains would come, hundreds of passengers would get off. I used to stand at the gate of the railway station, where all passengers would exit, with bundles of tracts, distributing to every person, saying, "Receive peace, joy, love." It gave me the greatest joy.

Once, when I was distributing tracts, a train had arrived, and hundreds of passengers were getting out at the railway station. One person started shouting with a loud voice, and a crowd gathered around me. The man said, "You are preaching!" I was afraid. The crowd had gathered around me. I thought they would beat me, kill me, or call the police. There was a threat of mob lynching, since in that North Indian city, hardly 1% of the population knew the loving, living Jesus.

Quietly, I prayed, remembering the sweet, wonderful promise of Jesus: "Call to me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you shall glorify me." — Psalm 50:15

Suddenly, another man started telling the man who was shouting at me, "Hey, the smell of alcohol is coming from you. You are drunk! Why are you shouting?" Amazingly, the crowd began saying, "Oh, he is drunk," and they started disassembling.

Thank you, Jesus. Jesus saved me. Another time, my friend

Anuj Kapoor, who received Christ in his heart miraculously and was set free from addiction to smoking, drinking, movies, foul words, etc.—he became so passionate for Jesus, tasting His love, compassion, and goodness—that every morning he used to wake up at 4 a.m. and pray, read the Bible, and sing songs of praise and worship.

Every day, he would go to church and witness about Jesus to all the hostel students. When he went home to Ghaziabad (a city in North India), he told his parents and relatives about the love and power of Jesus. They were surprised and could not understand what had happened. He declined to watch movies or eat prasad. His father was a wealthy industrialist with 2–3 cars.

When Anuj used to go to his relative's house, the car driver would play filmy songs. Anuj Kapoor used to tell him, "Please play Man of God from India—Bro. D.G.S. Dhinakaran's songs, messages, gospel songs." Such was the transformation in his life. His parents were shocked because they belonged to a different religion.

Once, Anuj Kapoor's parents called me and said they were coming to meet me. They said, "We have sent our son to study, not to gain some new religion. You make Anuj the way he was before."

Anuj Kapoor's father was a wealthy industrialist, and his mother was very angry and annoyed with me. They said I was responsible for his conversion. I was afraid—they were coming from Ghaziabad to meet me and wanted to see their son return to his old ways.

"Oh, they will bring with them goons that will kill, murder me..." I began fearing they would come and kill me. They were very rich and angry because their son's life had been transformed. Finally, they came and called me to meet them in a city hotel.

Before going, I was afraid. "Jesus, perhaps this may be the last day in this world. But I know, when I close my eyes in this world, I will be in the bos-som of loving Jesus." But I did not want to die. I wanted to live and win souls—thousands, millions.

I cried, "Dear Jesus, I want to live for You and win souls!" I wept and cried. Suddenly, I heard the thunderous voice of Jesus:

"Who has given you life? Your life is in My hands." — Psalm 31:15 "Fear not, I will keep you alive."

I was comforted and went to meet Anuj's parents. They met me and told me about Anuj, how his life had changed. They said, "We have no problem if he celebrates Christmas, but he should also celebrate our festival."

After much sharing, Anuj told his mother, "No one can serve two masters."

His mother was amazed. Then she said to me, "Anuj has answers for everything," and requested I take dinner with them.

I was fearing they would mix poison in the dinner. Prayerfully, I took dinner with them and returned to my room.

Thank you, Jesus. Nothing happened to me. I didn't die. Thank you, Jesus, for saving me.

Another time, when I was living in a hostel during my engineering studies, around 720 students were living there. I used to distribute gospel tracts to them.

Once, after distributing, I received a call from my hostel seniors. They called me at night, 11 p.m. I was worried. There was a rumor that they were very upset because I distributed gospel tracts and literature. These seniors were really rowdy, cruel, and hard-hearted.

I prayed, "Dear Jesus, come with me. I am going alone to meet them and explain about you. Let me not deny the fact that You are the only way to Heaven."

I went to meet them. There were 6–8 seniors gathered in the hostel room. They asked me a series of questions about Jesus and what I was doing.

They told me, "We will beat you. We'll see who comes to save you. We'll complain to your head of department and principal that you are sharing Christ."

They all belonged to different faiths. They threatened me. I was praying in my heart.

Finally, they said, "Go. Have sweet dreams of Jesus."

I came back to my hostel room and was fearing, "Oh, they will come to my room and beat me, kill me."

I kept on praying, crying to Jesus for safety.

Loving, protecting Jesus protected me the whole night. And in the sessional exam—

“The Doctors Said Cancer, But Jesus Said Healed”

One Family’s Stand of Faith in the Face of a Death Sentence - Dorothy, David & Ashley

By Dorothy and David Vicente for He’s Alive News

September 2021—right in the heart of the COVID season. It all started when my husband, David, came to me and said, “My stomach’s not working right. The plumbing’s not doing right.” I didn’t respond as some super spiritual woman, laying hands and praying in tongues. I just said, “You’re fine. Your family’s fine. You’ve got a history—you’ll be okay.” That was the end of it. I shut him down, and he didn’t bring it up again. Then came October. While I was at work, I got a text from our daughter, Ashley: “Mom, I had to go pick up Dad. He walked over five miles on the Los Osos trail and couldn’t make it back.” When I got home, David came around the backyard corner. I asked, “Would you like me to take you to the emergency room?” “Yes, please,” he replied. We went. It was masks and long waits, typical of that season. They finally saw him, but I wasn’t allowed in. Eventually, he returned with release papers. I asked, “What did they say?” “Call my primary physician.” And that was it—no answers, no direction. We switched doctors because the clinic he was using didn’t seem to help. But with COVID still raging, we couldn’t even go inside the new doctor’s office. It was all over the phone. I did what I do—I talked too much. The doctor had to say, “Ma’am, I need to speak to your husband.” I hushed. Then I filled in some blanks anyway. That doctor ordered a CAT scan. This was December. But nothing is fast in California. And because we didn’t want the COVID vaccine, we had to jump through all kinds of hoops. Thankfully, we were well-informed. My brother had been doing weekly livestreams with facts and doctor interviews about the dangers of the shot. We also followed Joni on Daystar Table Talk. Meanwhile, David and I were faithfully part of Daniel’s Bible study—Chuck’s son. It was our daily routine. Sweet Daniel noticed David was missing and asked, “Where’s Uncle David?” He and Edie and Sam began praying for his healing before any diagnosis was ever confirmed. Finally, in March 2022, David got his CAT scan.

In April, the results came in. I was at work. Ashley, our angel, was home and overheard the doctor on speakerphone telling David, “You’ve got a lump in your stomach. You need a colonoscopy now—or you’re going to die.” Ashley burst from her room, grabbed the phone, and declared, “My dad is not going to die. Don’t be speaking that over him!” She later told me, “Mom, you should’ve seen Dad’s face. He had just been told a death sentence.” But our daughter, full of the fire of God, intercepted death that day. Still, nothing moved fast. It wasn’t until June that he could finally get the colonoscopy. After a couple of hours, a nurse approached me and said, “Ma’am, the doctor wants to see you.” My heart sank. I’ve been with others through this before. It’s never good when the doctor wants to speak to you in private. He led me back. David was medicated, barely awake. The doctor, a sweet, short Asian man, looked at me and said, “Ma’am, this is very serious. I’ve been doing this a long time. I know cancer when I see cancer. Your husband has cancer.” I looked him squarely in the eyes and said, “Sir, I thank you for your opinion, but my husband does not have cancer.” “I’ve seen it. I know it,” he insisted. “We’ll make the follow-up appointment, but I’m telling you—it’s not cancer.”

The primary physician echoed the same: “It’s cancer. No question.” Again, we stood our ground: “No, doctor. It’s not cancer.” Through the summer, David was also dealing with kidney stones. He had surgery for that in August. Finally, in September 2022—one full year later—he went in for colon surgery. The young surgeon, newer to the field and younger than Ashley, impressed me with her competence and compassion. God was with her. But when I tried to enter the hospital, they stopped me: “You can’t come in. You’re not vaccinated.” They told me I’d be escorted out if I tried. I wasn’t about to compromise, but I did agree to the rapid test. Once cleared, I joined my husband and waited the longest four hours of my life. When the surgeon finally emerged, she said, “I got it all. But that was cancer. I’m sending it to the lab. It will come back as cancer.” I told her calmly, “No ma’am. It’s not cancer. But I’m glad you’re sending it to the lab.” Two days later—while David was waking up from anesthesia—something happened that I’ll never forget. My sister Belinda (now in heaven) used to say some rough things coming out of sedation, so I wasn’t sure what to expect. But David, groggy and

Helping Students Succeed—One Step at a Time

By Dorothy Vicente | Founder of Manatee Mentoring

Hello, my name is Dorothy Vicente. For 27 years, I served as a Special Education teacher in the California public school system, working with students in grades 6 through 8. After retiring, I felt God leading me to relocate to another sunshine-filled state—Florida. My journey of faith began 42 years ago, after I graduated from the University of Alabama at Birmingham and moved to California. There, the Lord directed my steps to a Bible-believing Christian church where I came to know Jesus Christ as my personal Lord and Savior. It was also where I met my husband. Together, we built a family, and I went on to earn a master’s degree in Mild/Moderate Special Education. Throughout my career, I witnessed firsthand the impact of prayer, guidance, encouragement, and focused instruction. When students receive personal attention, whether through re-teaching, skill-building, or simply boosting their confidence, they begin to experience success. I genuinely believe that with patience, prayer, and a positive mindset, every child can make meaningful educational progress and grow as an independent learner. If your child or grandchild is struggling to grasp grade-level concepts, I would be honored to come alongside you and help bridge the learning gaps. Through personalized Zoom sessions, Manatee Mentoring is here to support families with tools, strategies, and faith-filled encouragement to strengthen your child’s academic foundation. For rates and scheduling details, please email me. Let’s work together to put the love of learning back into your child’s life.

still out of it, looked at me and said from the depths of his heart, “I love you.” He doesn’t remember it. But I’ll never forget it. Three days later, that same young doctor walked in smiling: “Guess what?” “What?” “The lab reports came back. It was not cancer.” We looked at each other and said, “That’s because Jesus is our Healer!” Now I’ll let David share in his own words what he experienced: “I just want to praise God for a Spirit-filled wife and daughter. That was a lot to go through. I forgot much of it because it’s been so long. But I remember being screamed at by doctors over the phone. Maybe I would’ve taken it better face to face—but they all said cancer. And yet, every doctor had to learn that I was cancer-free. That was a miracle. It defied their medical logic. The peace I had was phenomenal. Lying in the hospital, never having been there in my life before, I just kept thinking,

“What is going on?” But I still had peace. I know my Healer. I know there are no negative reports over me. I just want to give God all the praise and glory!” What the Enemy Meant for Evil, God Turned for Good. Jesus Is Still the Healer! If you or someone you love is facing a negative report, let this testimony ignite your faith. # PREPARE TO MEET THY GOD

By Rev Judy Miles

Amos 4:12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. 13 For, lo, He that forms the mountains, and creates the wind, and declares unto man what is his thought, that makes the morning darkness, and treads upon the high places of the earth, The LORD, The God of hosts, is His name.

1. THE SERVANT'S WISDOM: [A]. He knew the Presence of God. [B]. He knew the Power of God. [C]. He knew the Promise of God.

2. HIS SERIOUS WARNING - "Prepare": [A]. Prepare. Presently, there is no second chance after death. [B]. Prepare Precisely. There's a storm of Judgment coming. Ye must be born-again [C]. Prepare Personally Romans 14:10 for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. [D]. Prepare Preeminently Matthew 6:33 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

3. HIS SOLEMN WORDING: "Meet thy God." You will not meet the Preacher; You will not meet mom or dad; You will not meet your peers; You will not meet the courts of this world; But God! Prepare. Receive Christ and the free forgiveness of sin today. "Now is the accepted time, today is the day of salvation". Somehow, you have muffled the voice of God in your conscience. You have suppressed your heart's feelings, so you have no awareness of sin. You have smothered your heart so you do not perceive Him. But you will meet Him soon. The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God." The thought of God interfering with your life and your plans is something you don't want to deal with now. You could not commit some of the sins you do now if you thought that the all-seeing eyes of God could see you. But He does see you – at all times. And He sees the thoughts in your mind, too. Now you can put away thoughts of God seeing you. But one day you will meet God face to face. You will meet face to face with God – the God who knows your every secret sin, and your every secret thought – the God who knows your evil thoughts and your sinful heart. That is the God you will meet face to face on the day of your judgment. You will then know that He is a God of judgment – a God who judges sin. But it will be too late then. When you meet God on the day of your death, your destiny will already have been determined. There is no way to go back, trust Jesus, and be cleansed from sin by His Blood. After you are dead, it is everlastingly too late to be saved!

The only way to prepare to meet Him is to admit you are a sinner now.

There is no use in trying to hide your sins from Him. There's no use in trying to hide it or make excuses for it. He sees what you do at night. He sees what you look at on the computer. He sees the ugly jealousy and evil thoughts in your heart. You may be rich, but your money cannot keep you from meeting God. You may be cultured, but culture will avail you nothing if you stand before God as one who has trampled under your feet the blood of Jesus Christ. You may have political power, you may have social prestige, you may have fame, you may have won many trophies, you may have broad estates, you may drive around in big cars, you may have servants at your every beck and call, but that does not mean that you will not have to meet God. It is appointed unto man once to die, and after that the Judgment. You will meet God! You don't have to listen to me; you can lay this article down if you want to; you don't have to go down to the revival service where truth is being preached; You don't have to do that. You can die first! You don't have to open your Bible and read it. You will meet Him. You will meet the One who has counted your footsteps since you learned to toddle at your mother's knee. You will meet One who knows every word in your mouth, and there isn't a word in your mouth that he doesn't know. He's One who understands your thoughts afar off. He is One that you cannot joke with, One you can not deceive. Be not deceived, God is not mocked. You will reap what you sow. He is One that will not let you escape through some technicality of law or through some eloquent plea of some lawyer, or loophole. You have to stand face-to-face with God. You need to get ready. Prepare to meet thy God! You don't know when you are going to meet Him, so you should get ready to meet Him. Right now. Everything in God's Book, the wooing of the Holy Spirit, everything that pertains to common sense, everything of human experience, everything that we know anything about that is worth remembering about God and humanity, says N-O-W! NOW! Today is the wise man's day; tomorrow is the fool's day.

If you have something you need to make right, make it right now. If your soul is out of the ark of redemption and salvation, now is the time to enter. Right now! "Just say, come into my heart, Lord Jesus — now." N-O-W, NOW!

There where you are, there in your room, out in some shop, there in your car speeding on the highway, maybe up in some airplane, oh, say to Christ. You must confess your sin to Him now, while there is still time. That is why Jesus came down from Heaven and died on the Cross – to pay for your sins. That is why Jesus shed His Blood on the Cross – so your sins could be washed clean! Christ died in your place to pay the penalty for your sin. Christ died a "vicarious" death on the Cross – one person (Christ) dying in your place – to pay the penalty for your sin. All God asks you to do is trust Jesus. When you trust Jesus, your sin is washed away by Christ's Blood.

All to Jesus I surrender, all to Thee I surrender, myself, my sin, my all," and He will take your sins away, and He will save your soul. If you are a backslider, come back to Him today. And if you have been wandering far, come back, and He will not turn you away. Let Him have His way with you. Prepare to meet Him!

Divine Protection on the Beach

By Robin Art

What would you do if you were alone on a beach and suddenly found yourself facing imminent danger and had no one to help you? That actually happened to me back in Nov. 2018. I was part of a mission trip out of the country. One morning, our team and I walked down to see one of the local beaches. It was quite desolate, which meant we basically had the beach to ourselves. A short while later, our team returned back to where we were staying. One team member and I remained for a few more minutes. As I took a few pictures, my teammate walked to the far end of the beach to look for shells. Down the beach in the other direction, I noticed a pack of large dogs asleep in the sand. We had spotted them the previous evening across the street, around dumpsters outside a nearby restaurant. They apparently foraged for food wherever they could. They were clearly not pets. How strange, I thought, to see a pack of feral dogs living at a beach. Now, they lay sleeping under the shade of the palms at the beach. They seemed content; the Alpha dog stood watch. I really wanted to take a picture of them, as the idea of feral dogs living on a beach was such an oddity. Because they were all large breeds, I approached with caution, slowly raising my camera. As I zoomed in to get a closer picture, I lowered my body slightly to a half-kneeling position. Alert!!! The guard dog in the pack alerted. In a flash, I was surrounded by this pack of large feral dogs. Now alone on the beach, I had nothing to defend myself. They encircled me, snarling. I froze in place. I held my arms down at my sides and braced myself for the attack. The last thing I saw before I closed my eyes was the alpha lunging at my face. I closed my eyes. Images flashed before my mind of footage I'd seen of dogs dragging a person away while bystanders looked on helplessly. Would I be torn to shreds? With no time to think, I used the only weapon I had. Instinctively out of my inner-most being came the words, "In Jesus' Name!" I tried to shout, but all that came out was a whisper.

As I stood there waiting for the worst, I suddenly realized their attack had somehow been called off. As I opened my eyes, I could see that the dogs were cowering away from me as if some invisible force had overpowered and disarmed them. Hunched down, they cowered away from me, tails tucked between their legs, with their heads hung low. They were retreating, in much the same way as a dog would if his owner shouted, "Bad Dog, Go!" The Name of Jesus had literally saved me from this dog attack and potentially saved my life! Praise God! So let me ask you. Would you know what to do if faced with a dangerous situation? What do people generally say when faced with sudden surprise? Would it be a bad word? What is in the heart usually comes out of the mouth in times of crisis. What would you do? Whether faced with sudden danger in traffic or alone with a stranger, or in the situation I found myself in, you do have a weapon. It's the Mighty name of Jesus. Learn to use it. There is Power in the Name of Jesus!

Jesus Saved Me from Death

From Page 6... where the marks are with the college professors—Jesus granted me grace and favor. When the result came, Jesus granted me First Division: 66% in Electronic Engineering. Thank you, Jesus. Sometimes, I used to board passenger trains in North India so that at every station it stopped, I would enter a new bogie and distribute tracts to passengers. At the next station, I would enter another bogie, distributing to everyone in the previous one. There was always the danger of people getting annoyed. They could have thrown me off the running train. But loving Jesus saved me from death. When I met the dear man of God from India, Bro. D.G.S. Dhinakaran—who spoke with Jesus face-to-face and visited Heaven numerous times during prayer—he did not know anything about me or my life. When he started praying, he said:

“Past suffering brought death nigh, but you will not die before time. Jesus will give you long life. You will have a blessed ministry.” Thank you, Jesus. Jesus has kept me alive. Thanks to Jesus. Millions of thanks to powerful, protecting, loving, sweet Jesus. Are you afraid of death? Is fear of death near your loved ones? Is death nearing you or your loved ones? There is hope from Jesus Christ, the Giver of Life. He frees us! He rescues us from death. “Our God is the God of salvation; and to God the Lord belongs escapes from death.” — Psalm 68:20 “Then the Lord said to him, ‘Peace be with you; do not fear, you shall not die.’” — Judges 6:23 “I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.” — Psalm 118:17 A man in Rev. Dr. Samuel Massey B.E. (Elect), M.B.A. (Marketing & Finance), C-DAC, Ph.D samueljohnmiracle@gmail.com

God Is My Source: Georgia Yost's Testimony of Provision and Peace

By Georgia Yost

These past two months have been financially rough, but my source is God. I don't have any debt, but I did use a credit card to borrow $500 to get through the last couple of months. I told no one. I continued to tithe and give just as I always do. At one point, I had only $84.24 left to last me until next week when my Social Security check comes in. But through it all, I stayed at peace. Then, two days ago, I received an unexpected $500 from a friend in California. He said, "God told me to send you this money." We are not in regular communication. The next day, he sent another $500—again saying that God told him to send it. I have learned not to let Satan steal my peace, no matter what I have to deal with. I don't operate in fear or doubt, and God always comes through—because of my trust in Him. This man from California is the son of a dear friend I've known for years. I worked with her in St. Louis, and she's the reason I moved to Florida.

She and her husband lived in Bradenton. I had the privilege of leading them both to the Lord and conducting their funerals. Her son lives in California and owns several businesses. We only touch base now and then, but every once in a while, he sends me a check. He told me that before his mother passed away, she told him, "Take care of Georgia." He listens to God—and he obeys when God speaks. So praise God. He is faithful!

+ JESUS IS LORD!+

REMEMBER

Remember when life was easy and Everything you did was fun!

Then one day you wondered where it all had gone.

Well, you needn't worry for the Lord has sent His Son.

Jesus is our Saviour that will cast out all that's shunned.

Jesus will make you happy just like Your life has just begun!

Equipping Believers with Bible Knowledge and Practical Tools for Ministry

BRADENTON, FL – God-isReal.com is thrilled to announce the launch of the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy, a practical and spiritual faith-filled Bible study program designed to empower believers in their walk of faith and ministry work. This academy offers a variety of courses, all entirely online and completely free of charge, making high-quality Bible education accessible to everyone. While a free-will donation is encouraged, it is not required to participate.

A Vision for Spiritual Growth

The vision of the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy is to:

- Equip believers

for spiritual warfare.

- Teach individuals who they are in Christ and how to walk in that identity.
- Instruct students on using their authority in the name of Jesus.
- Help participants become skilled in the Word of God.

Grounded in the Word of Faith, the academy emphasizes that God cannot lie and that believers can live victoriously by standing on His promises.

Comprehensive Course Offerings

The academy's curriculum includes a variety of relevant and practical topics, such as:

- Healing Is Yours
- How to Be Sure I Am Going to Heaven
- Order in the Church

New courses are added frequently, ensuring a dynamic and enriching learning experience for all participants.

Ministerial Credentials and Continuing Education

For those called to ministry, the academy offers the opportunity to earn ministerial credentials. These credentials are ideal for individuals seeking recognition for their work in areas such as hospital visitation, prison ministry, and other outreach programs. Courses include credit hours necessary for obtaining credentials as well as continuing education requirements for maintaining or advancing those credentials.

Easy Enrollment and Accessible Learning

Enrolling in the Shepherds and Saints Training Academy is free and simple. The program includes downloadable study notes, making it easy for students to learn at their own pace.

Whether you're a new believer or a seasoned Christian, this academy provides valuable tools to deepen your faith and expand your ministry impact.

Get Started Today

Visit Shepherds and Saints Training Academy to enroll today and begin your journey of spiritual growth and empowerment. With courses designed to build your faith and equip you for ministry, this is an opportunity you don't want to miss. For more information, contact:

National Day of Remembrance on Sept. 13 Will Remember 65 Million Babies Killed in Abortions

By Eric Scheidler | LifeNews.com

You already know that children all over the country. Don't you think we ought to visit those burial sites and pray in mourning for these children? That's just what's happening on Saturday, September 13, the National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children. Click here to sign up for pro-life news alerts from LifeNews.com Since 2013, pro-lifers have gathered at the burial places of aborted babies and other memorials erected in their honor to mourn for these babies and pray for an end to abortion. We need to help them grieve for the loss of these victims and heal from the wounds of abortion as we continue working to extend legal protection to our unborn brothers and sisters in all 50 states. That's why I'm reaching out to you today to invite you to be a part of this year's Day of Remembrance in a special way.

Will you consider signing on to host a prayer service in your area during this year's National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children on September 13? If you're willing to do this, the first step is to check out the list of burial places and other memorial markers. If you find a location near you — or know about one nearby that isn't on my list — you can sign on to lead a prayer service on September 13. My team and I have put together all the resources you need to organize this event, including promotional materials, a sample prayer service agenda, and more. And if you've never led an event like this before, we'll be available to you every step of the way with whatever help you might need. Check out all the Day of Remembrance tools and resources right here. Over the years, countless women and men have drawn hope and healing from this solemn day of mourning for the unborn victims of abortion. This year, you can be a part of bringing peace to those suffering abortion regret and testifying to all our fellow Americans that the innocent victims of abortion must never be forgotten.

From Rejection to Redemption: How God Turned My Pain into Purpose

The Testimony of Sarah Jansson at God Is Real Covenant Healing School

By Sarah Jansson | Special to He's Alive Christian News

We know that God heals physically. Yes. We know that He heals emotionally, mentally—yes. And spiritually, for sure. That's first and most important. He also heals financially and restores relationships. In every area, He is El Shaddai—the God who is more than enough.

No matter how deep He has to go, He's already been there, and He is able to pull us out, lift us up, give us a testimony, and turn our mess into a ministry. That's exactly what He did with me. I don't often share this testimony unless the Lord leads me. But tonight, I know He wants someone to hear this.

I grew up with a severe learning disability. I was held back twice, and if they could've held me back a third time, they would have. I probably should've been in a special class. Instead, I was pushed through school and never graduated. On top of that, I was mocked, called names constantly - names I won't repeat. The ridicule hurt deeply.

I had one friend—just one—named Rosemary. From the start, my life was steeped in rejection. I was the firstborn, but my parents wanted a boy. I wasn't celebrated. My father was undiagnosed bipolar and extremely abusive to both my mother and grandmother. When his temper flared, tables, chairs, and dishes would fly. In today's world, he would have been arrested countless times.

My mother, unable to direct her pain toward him, turned it on me. Though my brother and I remain close to this day, I was the one who suffered. I was told things like, "I should've had a hundred of your brother, but never another one of you." Worse, my mother said many times, "I should've flushed you down the toilet." That's essentially saying, "I should've aborted you."

I was told I was stupid, ugly, that I looked like my father—when in fact, I looked like her. She would mock my teeth and mimic my face. There was no love—not at school, not at home. I didn't know what it felt like to be hugged or told, "I love you."

The Lord had me share this because someone reading this needs healing in relationships. God heals physical ailments, but He also heals deep, inner hurts. He goes to the root of the pain—unmet needs, undealt with trauma, the real cause behind habits and hangups.

Many want physical healing but don't realize God needs to first deal with the root issues. That's where forgiveness comes in—forgiveness of yourself, your parents, siblings, ex-spouses, friends, and even pastors. Until those roots are dealt with, people go from healing line to healing line, wondering why healing hasn't come. God had to go deep with me. I needed a lot of inner healing.

If I talked back to my mother, she'd get matches and threaten to burn my tongue. She'd pull my hair at the dinner table like she was dusting a mop. She'd bite me and even break dishes over my head. Today, I would have been removed from the home.

By 15, I was on the streets, looking for love. I just wanted someone to say, "You're okay. You belong here." I won't go into the darkness the enemy took me into, but it was real. And yet—God. God looked deep into the mud and said, "That one's a mess, but I'll take her. I like challenges." And He did. When I was married with two small boys—one two years old and one six months—I was alone in my kitchen when Jesus Himself appeared to me.

I had grown up Catholic, and not a good one. I didn't know anything about the Bible. I thought supernatural experiences happened to saints, not someone like me. But He stood there. Jesus. I was filled with the Holy Spirit, speaking in tongues—though I didn't even know what tongues were. My life was radically changed in that moment.

Within weeks, He led me to Florida. A year later, my parents and brother moved down too, into a house just a block from where we were renting. And the Holy Spirit had been working on me.

God used me—the black sheep—to bring my entire family to Christ. My mother, my father, my brother, my husband—all saved, all filled with the Holy Spirit, all in church, all reading their Bibles. My mother would sit in the garage with the door open reading devotionals and the Word of God.

And I didn't stop with them. The evangelist in me was on fire. I reached my aunt, my uncle—anyone who would listen. I didn't waste time.

My husband Chris and I have now been married 31 years. We've been through a lot, but we love each other. Together, we founded Heart of Mercy Ministries. We do street ministry and tent revivals. I want to get back to that full-time. It's my heartbeat.

Now my parents became part of the ministry. My mom would bake and minister to the homeless. She even "adopted" one young man as her son. He was in tears in her arms. A year later, he was tragically killed. But she loved him like a mother.

My father helped set up tables and fellowship with people. My brother and his wife joined too. God turned our family story completely around. And the mother who once said such awful things about me? She'd point me out and say, "That's my daughter up there preaching."

God gave me total forgiveness. When they both passed, I had nothing but love. I held no bitterness. They helped us buy a house. I saw both of them come into the Kingdom of God. When my mom died, angels filled my room. I heard them singing. I knew she made it to Glory. When my father passed, the funeral clothes chosen by a family member "by accident" included a tie given to my son by Apostle Gerald Derstine—one with the resurrection printed on it. It was God's way of saying, "He's with Me now."

I look back with no pain, no hurt—only love.

And about that learning disability? The girl who couldn't read or write well—who was pushed through school and left behind—has now written four books, all on her own. I write monthly for He's Alive Christian News and I write all my own sermons.

That's God.

If He can do it for me, He can do it for you. There's no limit to what He can heal—physically, emotionally, mentally, relationally. Stretch your borders. Enlarge your tents. Forgive. Make the call. Let go of offenses. Sometimes we think things are dealt with, but there's still residue. Let God heal the root—and see what doors He will open.

Navigating the Car Buying Maze—From Insider to Consumer Advocate

After decades working in the auto industry—serving as a salesman, manager, and even a used car dealer-owner. I recently experienced car shopping from the customer's side. My journey was eye-opening. Most of the car-buying process is now handled online, from researching vehicles to comparing pricing. The back-and-forth to negotiate the best deal was still time-consuming, but essential to secure a fair price.

Having been in the business, I paid close attention to details like money factors (lease interest rates) and residual values. In the end, I secured a lease with an interest rate under 2% and a heavily discounted price.

I now use this insider knowledge to help you navigate the car-buying process. Offering free guidance to save you money and avoid unnecessary costs. I know what to look for. If you want some advice:
